These works have now been in successful operation for the past sixteen years. From a comparatively small beginning in the year 1850, its increasing patronage has each year demanded enlarged facilities; until our establishment, in all its appointments, will compare favorably with that of any similar one in the country.

Our patterns, in variety and extent, are unsurpassed; embracing the latest improvements in all classes of machinery, adapted to use on this coast. Our several departments are well equipped with skillful workmen, and efficient tools; enabling us to execute all orders intrusted to us promptly, and in the most workmanlike manner. With ample facilities for doing work, as also for procuring our supplies from first hands, we are enabled to give our customers first-class machinery, at prices frequently paid for inferior work. The most skillful designing and engineering talent, applying to the various branches of mechanical work, constantly at the service of our customers.

We would call particular attention to the fact, that we have secured the exclusive right of manufacture for this coast of the celebrated HARTFORD ENGINE, which is conceded to be the most economical and perfect working engine now in use. Orders for all classes of Machinery, Castings, or Boiler Work promptly executed at the most reasonable rates.

Particular attention given to Steamboat and Steamship Work. Mining and Hoisting Machinery of the most approved construction.

The annual Course of Lectures of this Institution commences on the first Monday of June, and continues four months.

During the regular term, the students will have an opportunity of visiting the various hospitals of the city, under circumstances which will enable them to observe medical and surgical treatment, to listen to clinical teaching, and make records of the progressive development of diseases, with the results of Medicine and Hygiene. The Faculty desire to call attention to the following local advantages:

1st. There is no climate, perhaps, in the world, which has a more invigorating effect upon persons coming from the interior of our States and Territories, thereby qualifying the votaries of study with essential health and inspiration. 2d. No city of the same population has more ample hospital facilities, or greater opportunities for organizing and maintaining the very best elements of clinical teaching. 3d. The singular characteristics of our climate are such, that every branch of Medical Study can be prosecuted during the entire year. In winter or summer, dissections can be made without detriment to the health of the student.

ELECTRO-SILICON, OR MAGIC BRILLIANT, DIRECT FROM NATURE'S LABORATORY.

PUT UP BY THE ELECTRO-SILICON COMPANY.

TRADE MARK.

Wm. H. Keith & Co.

Wm. H. Keith & Co.

Sole Agents, San Francisco, California.

This curious and valuable substance is confidently claimed to be the BEST ARTICLE ever discovered for cleaning and polishing Gold, Silver and Plated Ware, and all smooth metallic surfaces, of whatever description, including Kitchen Utensils, of Tin, Copper, Brass, Steel, etc.

The ELECTRO-SILICON is not an artificial preparation, but a natural production, or more properly a natural deposit—found, like coal, borax and other natural productions, in certain localities. The deposit from which the Electro-Silicon Company obtain their supplies—and the only one of the kind, so far as is known, on this coast—resembles in appearance a fine white clay, or limestone; but, on examination, it is found to consist in fact of pure silex, being composed entirely of the shells of Infusoria, distinctly organized and of the most wonderful and beautiful structure. A solution of this remarkable substance in water, when placed in the focus of a powerful microscope, reveals its wonderful character and composition. Countless numbers of distinct organisms, clearly defined, and of the most curious and beautiful structure, are disclosed to the astonished view; an infinite variety of perfectly formed shells appear, mimicking corals, corallines and sponge, in their outlines, all infinitesimal in size, but assuming a length varying from six or seven inches to the smallest fraction of an inch, under a microscope magnifying 1000 diameters.

One of the former members of the Electro-Silicon Company conceived the idea, when he first saw a specimen of the deposit, that it must, from its nature and composition, be a much better article than any in use for the purpose of imparting a brilliant polish to metallic substances. One trial, with gold and silver plate, demonstrated its wonderful power in removing all stain or tarnish, and the truly electric swiftness with which it imparted the peculiar luster, so superior to that produced by any other polishing material, suggested the name of Electro-Silicon. This was adopted, thus retaining, in one word, the name of the substance of which it is composed, and referring to the ease and celerity with which its peculiar effects are produced.

To Jewellers and Workers in Gold and Silver Plate, the Electro-Silicon is of inestimable value—the time saved, and the vexation prevented by its use will forever endear its name to all who have had evidence of its merits.

The following certificates from well known Jewellers and others, will serve to attest the truth of these statements:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23, 1867.

Messrs. WM. H. KEITH & Co., Agents:

Having tested the qualities of the Electro-Silicon, or Magic Brilliant, by actual use, we take pleasure in saying that we consider it the best article yet discovered for cleaning all polished metallic surfaces, acting, as its name implies, like magic. It contains no mercury or other injurious substance, and, what is of great importance to its use on plated ware, it will not wear away the plating.

Yours, truly,

GEO. C. SHREVE & CO., Jewelers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14, 1867.

Messrs. WM. H. KEITH & Co., Agents:

We are now using the Electro-Silicon Polish, and find it the best in use.

J. W. TUCKER & CO.,

Importers and Manufacturing Jewelers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15, 1867.

Messrs. WM. H. KEITH & Co., Agents:

Sirs: We have experimented in our Factory with your Electro-Silicon, and pronounce it far superior to all other preparations for polishing articles of gold and silver. We think it hardly possible that any other substance can supersede it in the favor of jewelers, who can appreciate the beautiful luster it imparts to all goods in their line.

Truly yours,

BARRETT & SHERWOOD, Jewelers.

ELECTRO-SILICON COMPANY:

Gents: We have used, with the greatest satisfaction, your Electro-Silicon or Magic Brilliant, for cleaning and polishing our gold and silver ware. The superiority of your brilliant polish over any other now in use is certainly surprising, and its advantages are unparalleled, as it contains no acid, mercury, or other substances injurious to the finest gold and silver ware, or to other metals requiring a brilliant luster. We cheerfully recommend this most surprising discovery of the

Messrs. WM. H. KEITH & Co., Agents:

In accordance with your request, I have used the Magic Brilliant in cleaning and polishing my locomotive, and find it superior to anything ever before used by me, including the Tripoli Polish. The Electro-Silicon does not cake like the Tripoli, but cleans the oil from brass, and leaves a superior polish. My fireman, with this article, cleans his engine in one-third the time formerly consumed when using Tripoli, and the work is done better and more satisfactory. I frankly recommend it to all persons having occasion to remove oil from and polish brass, copper and other work.

Yours truly,

SAM'L D. KEITH, Engineer.

PREFATORY.

In no previous issue of the SAN FRANCISCO DIRECTORY are there presented more unmistakable evidences of the continued progress of this city in all the elements of civilization and wealth than are contained in this, the ninth volume, issued by the present compiler. In each department of the work are given in detail the operations for the past year, exhibiting an unusual degree of prosperity, and conveying a mass of information useful to all classes of our people.

The number of references in the present volume is over forty-seven thousand, of which nearly forty-five thousand are male residents. The increase of our population during the last eighteen months is much greater than a comparison of these figures with those of last year would indicate, from the fact of the omission from this issue of a number of references to incorporations, etc., which no longer have an existence. The BUSINESS DIRECTORY contains over fifteen thousand business firms, so arranged as to be of easy reference, to which especial attention is invited.

The population of San Francisco, August 1st, 1867, is estimated at one hundred and thirty-two thousand, of which forty thousand are whites under the age of twenty-one. The number of females over eighteen is estimated at twenty-seven thousand. These figures are based upon the most reliable data, and they may be regarded as a fair approximation of the population.

The number of buildings erected during the year ending June 30th, 1867, is one thousand and fifty, of which three hundred and forty are of brick; total in the city and county, seventeen thousand three hundred and sixty-eight, of which three thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven are of brick. The estimated cost of the improvements during the same period is nearly nine millions of dollars. The sales of real estate for the first seven months of the present year, exceed ten millions of dollars. The operations of the department of Streets and Highways for the year ending June 30th, 1867, show an expenditure exceeding one million of dollars.

The Appendix contains the Consolidation Act with its amendments so arranged that the changes of the law are perceptible at a glance, and in addition, the following laws relative to our municipal government: changing the time for holding the Municipal Elections; establishing a Paid Fire Department; relative to Public Lands; reorganizing Justices' Courts; Registry Act; maintaining an Alms House and Hospital, and establishing a Quarantine. There will also be found a variety of information, and much of it of an interesting character, embracing lists of the Federal, State, and Municipal Officers, notices of Local Societies and Associations, Churches, Military Organizations, Incorporations, etc.

The Introductory and General Review present a diary of the interesting local events of the year, brief notices of Schools—public and private—Benevolent Associations, Cemeteries, Railroads, Banks and Insurance Companies, and an extended description of the different mechanical enterprises in operation at the present time in this city, together with other subjects worthy of special mention, with historical data of present interest, and well calculated to make the book a valuable work of reference to future generations. But the particular features of this department of the work, are the tables presenting a correct census of the city and county for 1860, 1861, 1863 and 1867, a review of the improvements made during the year ending June 30th, 1867, and a statement of the number of buildings within the city limits.

The compiler would respectfully tender his thanks for the prompt coöperation extended by public officers and others, who have been applied to for information for the work. To his numerous patrons for their substantial evidences of good will, and to Messrs. TOWNE & BACON, to whom the typographical department was intrusted, he would especially offer his thanks.

The tenth volume of the San Francisco Directory will be issued early in the autumn of 1868.

PROGRESS OF THE CITY.

THE City of San Francisco was, for the first time, incorporated by the Legislature in May 1850, the organization of the County having been effected in the month previous, by the election of a Sheriff and other officers, thus establishing two distinct systems of government. The Consolidation Act took effect on the first day of July, 1856. Under its stringent provisions our municipal affairs have been administered with energy and fidelity, and a thorough reform has resulted. The enormous outlay consequent on the dual system of government has been entirely abolished or seriously reduced, while the checks upon lavish expenditure were so well devised as to defy evasion, and the contraction of debts has been inhibited. The financial history of all this is sufficiently indicated in the exhibit* of the Aggregated Annual Expenditures of the City and County of San Francisco, from 1850 to 1867—since the first legislative organization of the government—exclusive of the sums paid in liquidation of the principal and interest of the bonded debts:

Population, 1861.†

Believing that the National Census of the City and County of San Francisco, completed during the year 1860, did not truly represent the number of our population, and at the urgent solicitation of numerous patrons of this work, the following exhibit has been carefully prepared from the returns of the different canvassers engaged in collecting information for the present volume. The plan adopted to obtain the necessary data was the same as that so successfully carried into effect in the months of April and May, 1859, the results of which were published in the "San Francisco Directory" of that year, as follows: "To arrange and classify each sex in three divisions, viz: MALES: First Class—the head of each family, and members thereof over twenty-one years of age; Second Class—those between five and twenty-one; Third Class—those under five years of age. FEMALES: First Class—those over eighteen years of age; Second Class—those between five and eighteen; Third Class—those under five years of age. Also, to collect such other information as would furnish an approximation of the different elements composing our population not included in the foregoing classifications:"

Population, July, 1867.

The following table, compiled from the most reliable data, is presented as an estimate of the population of San Francisco, July 1st, 1867, and in directing attention thereto, it is believed to be as fair an approximation as can be made without an official and accurate canvass:

- (a) The number of names in the Directory 1861-62 exceeds thirty thousand, of which nearly three thousand are composed of non-resident partners of firms doing business in this city, females, Chinese, and colored.
 (b) This is from actual count, and is composed of a class of population who have no permanent place of abode.
 (c) This estimate has been arrived at by careful investigation. Number of hotels and lodging-houses in the city, 340.
 (d) The number at Fort Point, Alcatrazes, and Presidio in June last.
 (e) This number is composed of persons sailing from this port who have shipped from this city.
 (f) This number has been obtained from actual enumeration.

City Improvements.

Our Directory being a condensed register of the city's material progress, contains an abstract of all the improvements made within the periods embraced between the issue of each volume, thus affording a standard by which to measure the extent and direction of the city's growth. As will be seen by reference to previous editions, in no year, since it sprang up as by magic, under the influence of the discovery of gold, have the improvements been so extensive, permanent, elegant, or as influential towards the development of the trade, commerce and manufactures of the city, as during the period now under review.

Complete details of these improvements are impossible in a work of this kind. We can but refer to a few of the most important—in the briefest possible manner.

The total estimated cost of the improvements in the city from July 1st, 1866, to July 31st, 1867, exceeds $9,000,000. The sales of real estate from January 1st to July 30th, 1867, amounted to $10,352,837. These figures afford the most convincing proof of the general confidence in the permanence and progress of San Francisco, and are an illustration of the wealth and enterprise of its citizens.

The operations of the Department of Streets and Highways, under the energetic and competent superintendence of Mr. George Cofran, have been both important and extensive. The total expenditure for the year ending June 30th, 1867, amounts to $1,009,883.85, viz: for grading, 1,191,257 cubic yards, at a cost of $327,333; paving, 166,083 square feet cobble stone, and 236,005 square feet Nicolson—together, $117,594; brick sewers, 21,203 lineal feet, $156,745; planking, 2,571,083 thousand feet, $96,897; side-walks, 69,925 front feet, $96,154; cross-walks, 6,296 feet, and curbs, 19,193 feet—together $47,423; macadamizing, 1,560,119 square feet, $117,272; redwood sewers, 12,137 feet, $49,578. The entire cost of street work from July 1st, 1856, to June 30th, 1867, is $5,439,287. The total length of sewers constructed from July 1st, 1856, to June 30th, 1867, is 165,583 lineal feet, or nearly 30 miles of sewerage. The principal improvements have been the grading of McAllister Street, from Larkin to Fillmore; Tenth Street, from Market to Howard; Townsend Street, between Third and Fourth; Brannan Street, between Second and Third; Fillmore Street, from Sacramento to Pacific; Clay Street from Jones to Leavenworth; O'Farrell Street, from Larkin to Polk; California Street, from Polk to Franklin; Fulton Street from Buchanan to Fillmore; Van Ness Avenue from Bush to Geary; Franklin Street, from Ellis to Turk; Main Street, from Mission to Folsom; Fourth Street, between Brannan and Townsend; Taylor Street, between Broadway and Vallejo; Spear Street, from Harrison to Folsom, and Bush Street, from Larkin to Cemetery Avenue.

The following notice of some of the principal improvements shows that they are not confined to any particular section of the city, or to the erection of residences and stores; but extend in all directions, and include wharves and docks for the accommodation of commerce; factories and machinery for the extension of manufactures; roads and railroads for the convenience of trade and travel; gardens for recreation and amusement; schools, churches and libraries for propagating education, religion and knowledge.

THE BANK OF CALIFORNIA—Corner of California and Sansom Streets, is the most elegant and costly structure on the Pacific coast. It is the only building on this side of the Continent constructed of solid cut stone. It is built in the florid Italian style, of Angel Island bluestone, a very handsome material, nearly as hard as granite, but susceptible of as fine a finish as marble. Each of the columns which form the front, of which there are forty-two, are composed of solid blocks thirteen feet in length, weighing from three to four tons each. The building consists of two stories and basement, the latter eight feet high; the first story nineteen feet, and the second sixteen feet—the whole surmounted with an elegant stone balustrade. The roof is covered with copper. The building covers a lot sixty-eight and one-half by eighty feet. The interior is fitted up with luxurious elegance. The desks and counters are of heavily carved Spanish mahogany. The wainscoting of birdseye maple. The mantelpieces of California black marble, and all the other arrangements are of corresponding elegance. The total cost of the structure exceeding $275,000.

THE NEW MERCANTILE LIBRARY—Is located on Bush, below Montgomery Street. This building is of brick with an elegant iron front, sixty-nine feet wide, with iron roof and girders to support the floor on each story—in order to make it fire-proof. This building will cost $110,000. The lot on which it has been erected, cost $50,000 additional.

THE NEW MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE—Corner California and Leidesdorff Streets, is the largest and one of the most elegant structures in the city. The front on California Street consists of basement, three stories and attic—surmounted by a clock tower. The basement is constructed of solid cut granite, which rises about six feet above the side-walk. The first story is in the pure Doric style, the second story in Ionic, and the third in highly ornamented Corinthian. The attics are in modernized-mediæval, if such a term implies the adaptation of old styles to new purposes. The whole surmounted by a heavy balustrade, divided by colossal Etruscan vases, above which rises the lofty clock tower, which has four large dials that afford the "time o'day" to the residents of a large portion of the city, the great height of the tower—one hundred and twenty feet above the sidewalk—making it a conspicuous object. Each of the stories on this point recede about ten feet, forming extensive balconies, surrounded with balustrades and vases, which impart to the building a peculiar appearance of massiveness and strength. The front on Leidesdorff Street is in the same style, but less ornamental and without recesses. All the ornamental work on the exterior is made of cast-iron. The whole being painted a pale drab, and sprinkled with Monterey sand—which gives the building the appearance of being made of stone. The interior of this magnificent structure has been fitted up to correspond with its exterior. The total cost of the building, without the lot, has been $190,000.

THE FIREMAN'S FUND INSURANCE BUILDING—Corner of California and Sansom Streets, is an elegant iron-fronted three-story brick building, which cost $45,000.

THE PACIFIC INSURANCE COMPANY'S BUILDING—Corner California and Leidesdorff Streets, is a four-story iron-fronted building, of elegant proportions, which cost $80,000.

THE MERCHANTS' MUTUAL MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY'S BUILDING—On California Street, between Montgomery and Sansom, four stories, erected at a cost of $60,000.

THE HIBERNIA SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY'S BUILDING—Corner Montgomery and Market Streets; cost, $65,000.

Among the most important private and commercial buildings erected during the year, are Murphy, Grant & Co.'s four-story iron-fronted brick block, corner Sansom and Bush Streets, which cost $170,000. The improvements and additions to the Lick House, on Montgomery Street; cost, $175,000.

WHARVES, DOCKS, ETC.—The new Dry Dock, nearly completed, at Hunter's Point, about four miles southeast from Folsom Street Wharf, is one of the most important enterprises ever undertaken by private citizens. This work was commenced in September, 1866, and is expected to be completed by the close of the present year. The dimensions of the dock are 465 feet long by 125 feet wide, on the surface; and 400 feet long by 80 feet wide at the bottom, and of sufficient depth to admit vessels drawing 22 feet water to float in it. Nearly the whole of this great excavation has been cut out of solid rock. The materials extracted have been sufficient to cover ten 50-vara lots of the adjoining swamp land to a depth to bring them up to the grade of the city. The whole front of this dock will be covered with solid blocks of cut granite, 13,000 square yards of which have been brought from the quarries at Rocklin, Sacramento County, for that purpose. Powerful engines, pumps, and every necessary arrangement for rendering the works complete have been constructed, the whole cost of which will exceed $1,200,000.

The Merchants' Dry Dock Company have completed a floating apparatus, calculated to sustain vessels of 1,000 tons burthen. This dock cost $60,000.

The Union Lumber Association are constructing a dock near Beale Street, which is estimated to cost $150,000. This association has expended $185,000 in the construction of wharves and other improvements on lands adjoining the new wharf of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The improvements made and in progress under the direction of this latter company have quite changed the topography of the western front of the city. This company owns the block of overflowed land bounded by First, Second, Townsend, and Brannan Streets—about twelve 50-vara lots. They have constructed wharves which have required 1,200 piles, 3,000,000 feet of sawed lumber, 35 tons of iron bolts, and 300,000 cubic yards of earth to complete. They have erected a two-story brick warehouse, 195 feet deep by 230 feet wide, cut down hills, and filled up swamps to such an extent that what had been the most useless portion of the city front has become the center of an extensive business. Hundreds of men and teams are at present engaged cutting down the hills in the vicinity and filling up the shallow bay with the materials, extending the area of the city hundreds of feet over what had heretofore been useless territory. The erection of several large warehouses is contemplated in the vicinity.

MARKETS.—The new California Market, extending from California to Pine Streets, was commenced and has been completed during the past year. This is one of the most useful improvements in the city, being centrally located and most conveniently arranged. It is a most substantial structure, with elegant iron fronts on each of these streets, resting on a solid cut granite basement. It cost about $200,000. Another extensive market, which cost about $60,000, has been built on Howard Street, between Third and Fourth.

GARDENS.—A very elegantly arranged public garden, containing sixteen 50-vara lots, has been opened at corner Twelfth and Folsom Streets. The genial climate of San Francisco is peculiarly adapted for the cultivation of trees and flowers. Here the trees, plants, and flowers from Australia, Europe, China, Japan, and Central America grow to the greatest perfection in the open air, alongside the beautiful native trees of California. Everything that taste, art, and money can accomplish has been done to make these new public gardens a fashionable resort for the cosmopolitan residents of the city.

THE SEA WALL.—This great work has been commenced during the past year. It will be 8,336 feet in length when completed. It is estimated to cost $2,462,470, or $295 37½ per linear foot. It is to be constructed of solid granite, 8 feet thick at base, and 6 feet at top, resting on a broad embankment of rocks and cement.

THE PACIFIC ROLLING MILLS.—Among the new branches of manufacture introduced during the past year, this establishment holds a prominent position. It is located at Potrero Point, and has been fitted up with every requisite for manufacturing iron bars and rods of any shape or form from one-quarter of an inch to 36 in. diameter, including railroad iron of all descriptions. These works cost $1,000,000.

The PACIFIC WOOLEN MILLS have been completed at a cost of $100,000.

KEARNY STREET IMPROVEMENTS.—The work of widening this great thoroughfare has been carried on quite extensively. Upwards of $1,000,000 has been expended in buildings. Sufficient has been done to show how much this improvement will add to the beauty of the city when completed.

CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS.—DR. SCUDDER'S (PRESBYTERIAN) CHURCH—On Mission near Fourth Street, is an elegant brick structure, in the Anglo-Norman style, the auditorium of which is in the form of an ellipse, with a concave roof, which gives it a peculiar appearance. The building cost $64,000.

TRINITY (EPISCOPAL) CHURCH—Corner Post and Powell Streets, is nearly completed. The foundation stone was laid in December, 1866. It is a frame structure on a brick basement. It is in the most florid Gothic style, sufficiently large to contain a congregation of 1,200. The building will cost $75,000.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH (CATHOLIC) is near Twenty-second Street. It cost $18,000.

The TEHAMA STREET SCHOOL HOUSE cost $26,000.

THE CITY ALMS HOUSE—Is located on the hospital estate, formerly the San Miguel Ranch. The building alone, without furniture or lot, cost $60,000. It is elegant enough for a first-class hotel. It has accommodation for 250 inmates, and is fitted up with every convenience for their comfort.

RAILROADS.—The track, rolling and running stock of our city railroads has been much improved, and the revenue of the companies greatly increased. The Bay View and Potrero Road has been added to the list. This has been one of the most costly and will be the most useful of all the city railroads, as it affords facilities for reaching an extensive district that is rapidly filling up with population. The completion of this road required the erection of bridges across Mission Cove and Islais Creek—one upwards of a mile in length, the other 4,418 feet. A deep cut had to be made through a hill, from which upwards of 100,000 cubic yards of rocks were removed.

Quite extensive improvements have been made at the new terminus of the San José Railroad, on Valencia Street, east of Mission.

In addition to the above details, we give the following items to show the nature of the improvements completed or in progress in the city :

The Oriental buildings cost $200,000 ; additions to Occidental Hotel, $125,000 ; Blanding & Pringle's Block, $70,000 ; Ellis' Block, $65,000 ; Brannan's new building, $60,000 ; San Francisco Savings Union building, $50,000 ; Hayward's building, corner California and Leidesdorff, $90,000 ; Morrow's building, on California Street near Montgomery, $50,000 ; buildings on Battery Street between Bush and Pine, $90,000 ; building (private residence) on Oak Street, $16,000 ; Tucker's building, Montgomery Street, $45,000.

NEW BUILDINGS.—The number of buildings erected during the year ending June 30th, 1867, is 1,050, of which 340 are of brick ; total in the city and county, 17,368, of which 13,511 are of wood, and 3,857 are of brick.

Real Estate in San Francisco.

The real estate interest surpasses any other in San Francisco, both in the amount of money invested and the number of those interested in it, and in the confidence placed therein by all classes in its permanency and promise of future profits to investors. The first assertion is borne out by the figures of the City and County Assessor, who places the value of our real estate and improvements for the present fiscal year at $58,000,000 ; the second and third assertions are shown to be within the limits of truth by the fact that 5,213 sales of property were made in the year ending July 31st, 1867, or in a single year one out of about every thirty inhabitants purchased a lot of land in the county. The following table will more explicitly show the real estate transactions for the period named. Sales of real estate in San Francisco from August 1st, 1866, to July 31st, 1867: August, 364 sales, value, $1,244,674; September, 282 sales, value, $856,492; October, 379 sales, value, $979,016; November, 491 sales, value, $828,804; December, 448 sales, value, $1,121,373; January, 422 sales, value, $1,733,333; February, 446 sales, value, $1,257,763; March, 499 sales, value, $1,787,801; April, 532 sales, value, $1,630,092; May, 565 sales, value, $1,452,390; June, 431 sales, value, $1,123,640; July, 354 sales, value, $1,367,818—total sales, 5,213; total value, $15,383,196.

The above figures include only the sales recorded. If the price for which the Beideman estate sold (in July) was added to the table, its total would be increased over one-half a million of dollars.

Previous to 1864, real estate here was more or less liable to fluctuations; to-day it was held firm at high figures—to-morrow, with more or less distrust, at low ones. But since that time the Coast has advanced rapidly in the development of other, and vastly more reliable sources of wealth than our old and sole one of mining. Everything has, in fact, changed from a feverish and unreliable to a settled and reliable basis. While the causes mentioned, and many others that we have not and need not touch upon here, have contributed their quota in producing this desirable state of things, to the building of the Pacific Railroad, (commenced at the period named) and the certainty of its completion in about three years, is due more than to all other causes combined, not alone the late progress of the Coast, but the rapid advance in real estate here. The wealth of this Coast in natural resources is unmistakably shown by the fact that the local trade which the western half of the Pacific Railroad enjoys, with but ninety-three miles of the road open, is profitable to a surprising extent—in fact, astounding and unprecedented, when it is recollected that but the shell of development has been broken. If, in three months of last Fall, as the books of the Central Pacific Railroad Company show, $284,365 were earned from but a petty local trade on a road ninety-three miles long, what will the receipts be when the entire road is opened from ocean to ocean, and capital and labor have accomplished their more perfect work of development? Figures larger than those of any other single enterprise in the world can alone answer this question. What, then, will be San Francisco's position when these things are accomplished?—for let it be recollected, her natural location is such that she must always receive her quota of the profits of every industrial enterprise upon the Pacific Coast. All of the latter have had their effect in elevating real estate values in San Francisco; some, like the Pacific Railroad, have had an effect so marked, that even the dullest have perceived it; others have had a less marked, but still a palpable effect upon them.*

HEALTH OFFICE.—This office went into operation in November, 1865, with Dr. James M. McNulty as Health Officer, who appointed W. Picknol Scott as Clerk and keeper of records. During that portion of the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1866, comprising a period of seven months and twenty-two days, there were 1,519 deaths from disease, 62 casualties, and 11 suicides, making a total of 1,592: of these 1,037 were males, 555 females; the proportion of adults was 878 against 714 minors; 928 were natives of the United States, and 664 were foreigners. This year the sanitary condition of the city was very much improved by extending the sewerage in the streets, and filling in vacant lots.

In January, 1867, Dr. Isaac Rowell succeeded Dr. McNulty as Health Officer, reappointing W. P. Scott as clerk. During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1867, there were 2,522 deaths, including 200 casualties and suicides; 1,669 of these were males, and 853 females; 1,398 were adults, and 1,124 minors; the nationalities were, United States, 1,487; foreigners, 1,035. This year a large amount of sewerage has been constructed, which, together with the abatement of nuisances, has caused the death record to be far below the ratio of any American city of comparative population.

* We are indebted to Charles D. Carter, Esq., for these valuable figures on the real estate of this city.—COMPILER.

GENERAL REVIEW.

Public Schools.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

JOSEPH W. WINANS, President.

DIRECTORS.—E. H. Coe, 1st Ward; H. T. Graves, 2d Ward; W. F. Hale, 3d Ward; Joseph W. Winans, 4th Ward; Washington Ayer, 5th Ward; A. C. Nichols, 6th Ward; Ira P. Rankin, 7th Ward; George C. Hickox, 8th Ward; A. W. Scott, 9th Ward; S. C. Bugbee, 10th Ward; P. B. Cornwall, 11th Ward; Austin Wiley, 12th Ward.

J. C. PELTON, Superintendent of Public Schools; D. Lunt, Secretary of the Board of Education.

There is no feature in the history of the advancement of San Francisco to which her citizens can point with a greater degree of pride and pleasure than the ample provision made for the education of her youth. There is no tax which her citizens pay more cheerfully than that which goes into the treasury for the maintenance and support of her Common Schools. During the past year eight new school edifices have been erected, and three buildings have been materially altered and improved. Of those erected, three are of brick and five of wood. Various other improvements have been made for the increasing number of pupils in the department.

The Public Schools of this City are classified as follows: One State Normal School; one Training School for the education and preparation of teachers of the Common Schools; one High School for boys, and one for girls; one Latin School; eight Grammar Schools; twenty-four Primary Schools; and one Colored School.

The number of teachers employed in the Department (June 30, 1867) was 219, for the payment of whose salaries there was required during the fiscal year the sum of $209,874 75.

The appended table of the School Census, which has just been completed, shows that there are in the city, 34,710 white children under 15 years of age, of which 20,008 are between 5 and 15, and 14,457 are under 5 years of age. The number of negro children of all ages, is 165. Seven years ago, the total was 12,116, and the whole number of native born was 6,890. Thus it will be seen that our juvenile population has increased nearly three hundred per cent. during the past seven years, and the same remark will apply to other portions of the State.

With regard to the financial affairs of the schools, the Department was never in a more healthy condition. The total receipts for the year ending June 30th, 1867, amounted to $320,807 57, and the whole amount of disbursements for the same term for salaries of teachers and employés, buildings, rents, and all incidental expenses of the School Department, is $320,058 88.

Basing the amount of taxes for the benefit of the Public School Fund, upon the assessment roll of $80,000,000, at the School-Tax rate of thirty-five cents on each hundred dollars, the amount raised from this source the present year will be $280,000; apportionment of the State School Fund, $60,000; Poll Taxes, $2,500; Dog Tax, $1,000; rent of School Property, $600; Evening Schools, $200. Total revenue for the present year, $344,300.

Private Educational Institutions.

While the foregoing facts and statistics exhibit abundant and indisputable evidence of the flourishing condition of our Public Schools, there is probably no city of the same number of inhabitants, in the whole American Union—and certainly no community of the same age in the world—that can boast the same number of well conducted Private Educational Institutions. These schools for the proper training of the youth of both sexes, are ample in number, thorough in the course of study pursued, provided with all the apparatus and appliances necessary for pursuing useful scientific investigation, and in every department keeping fully up with the rapid march of improvement characteristic of the age in which we live. While the mental training of pupils is of course the paramount object of these institutions, that physical development so essential to health, happiness, and usefulness in life, is never lost sight of; and, as is the case with the Public Schools, each private institution has its gymnasium, fitted up with all the appliances necessary for healthful exercise, and the highest degree of physical development, with ample room for free and unconstrained movement. Absorbed as the great mass of our citizens are with the cares attendant upon the daily routine of business, and the unceasing rush after "the almighty dollar," too little attention is paid to the examination of and noting the growth and improvement of our educational institutions, public and private. The servants of the people who have the training of the future citizen in the former, as well as the teachers engaged in the latter, are always pleased to receive the intelligent visitor, who can understand and appreciate their efforts, and give countenance and encouragement to the noble work in which they are engaged.

The whole number of private educational institutions in San Francisco is about seventy, with an aggregate attendance, including students at the different colleges, of four thousand two hundred and fifty. Of this number, twelve are under the control of the Catholic denomination, and the regular aggregate attendance upon the same is over three thousand four hundred.

Being governed in the order of our review by number and attendance, we commence our summary with Catholic Schools.

ST. IGNATIUS' COLLEGE.

This well known literary institution, located on Market Street, between Fourth and Fifth, which is conducted by the Fathers of the Society of Jesus, was first opened for the reception of students on the fifteenth day of October, 1855, and was incorporated under the law of the State on the thirtieth of April, 1859, and empowered to confer the usual degrees and academical honors. Since its commencement, this institution has been attended with the highest degree of prosperity and success. The course of instruction pursued is thorough, and comprises a complete classical, mathematical, and philosophical course of training calculated to prepare the pupil for entering upon the study of any of the professions, or commencing any business vocation. The college is provided with an extensive laboratory, comprising all the necessary appliances for the assaying of metals and making chemical analysis, which is an important feature not generally found in institutions of this character: a spacious building has been erected for a photographic gallery, where all the departments of the Daguerrean Art will be practiced and taught. There is a telegraphic room, with an instrument in operation, connecting with a similar station at the Santa Clara College—the use of the California State Line having been granted for that purpose—where the business of operating is taught forming another novel and important educational feature.

The founders of this institution, foreseeing the rapid progress of the Queen City of the Pacific purchased some years since the property upon which the magnificent college edifice has since been erected. This lot has a frontage of two hundred and seventy-five feet on Market, and the same on Jessie Street, with a depth of three hundred and fifty feet. The college building at present consists of a center and one wing: the former is one hundred and five by fifty-six feet, and the latter, in which is the college Hall—used temporarily as the church, until the building shall be erected in another portion of the grounds—is one hundred and seventy by sixty feet. The present building, the cost of which, independent of the lot, was $120,000, although one of the finest architectural ornaments of the city, is only one-third of the extent contemplated. When the extensive additions are made, the entire structure will rival anything of the kind to be found in our portion of the country. The present building is admirably adapted to the purposes for which it was designed, being abundantly lighted and well ventilated in every portion; the ceilings are lofty, and spacious halls run through the building. A large playground is attached with a commodious shelter from the rain, affording ample means for the physical exercise of the pupils. In fact, nothing has been neglected which is at all conducive to mental and physical training. The number of students in the college at present is four hundred.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

This institution is situated near the county road to San José, at a distance of four miles and a half from this city. The college building covers a space of two hundred and eighty feet front by a depth of fifty feet, which, in the center, is increased to a depth of seventy feet; one hundred and ten feet of the building will be three stories high, and the remaining portion four stories high. The pension is exceedingly moderate, not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars or one hundred and sixty dollars a year for board and tuition, thus placing the advantages of the institution within the means of all.

Rev. Peter J. Gray, President.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL.

This school is exclusively for boys, and meets in the basement of St. Mary's Cathedral. It is under the direction of three Brothers of the Third Order of St. Francis and a secular gentleman. The number of children attending this school averages five hundred. The course of studies embraces reading, writing, English grammar, geography, with the use of the globes, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and the Spanish and Latin languages, if desired. There is a nominal charge of one dollar per month for each pupil able to pay; those not able being educated gratis. As this is a regulation common to all the Catholic parochial schools in the city, it will not be necessary to repeat it in referring to the others.

In the class-rooms Sunday School for boys is held from 9 to 11, A.M.

CONVENT OF THE SISTERS OF PRESENTATION.

This is one of the largest female schools of the city. Located on Powell Street, and conducted by the Rev. Mother Superior and twenty Sisters of Presentation. The convent buildings are spacious and well adapted to educational purposes. They have cost altogether not less than $70,000, and form a commanding feature of that portion of the city in which they are located. The studies pursued embrace a thorough English course, vocal and instrumental music, French, drawing, embroidery, and other ornamental branches. The number of pupils belonging to this school amounts to nine hundred.

SCHOOL OF ST. FRANCIS.

This is a male school, conducted in the basement of the Church of St. Francis, on Vallejo Street. The number of pupils is two hundred and sixty, with an average attendance of one hundred and thirty. The course of studies is the same as in St. Mary's School.

SAINT VINCENT'S SCHOOL.

This is a female day school, on Jessie Street between Second and Third, under the direction of Sister Frances McEunis and ten other Sisters of Charity, who are also in charge of the Roman Catholic Female Orphan Asylum on Market Street. The number of scholars belonging to the school is over five hundred, exclusive of two hundred and fifty orphan children in the asylum. The course of studies is the same as in the school last mentioned, and the noble ladies who conduct it have established a high reputation for ability and devotion to their self-imposed duties. As this school is supported by volunteer contributions, it appeals directly to the liberality of the generous and charitable in our midst. During the past year a commodious frame building has been added, which has been opened as a free school, under the same management.

In addition to the foregoing, the Sisters of Mercy have also a female school under their charge for children thrown upon their care, at which instruction in primary English studies is imparted, and the pupils are taught to be useful in the discharge of household duties.

SAINT THOMAS' SEMINARY.

This seminary is for the pursuit of clerical studies, and was commenced at its present place (Mission Dolores) in 1854, although prior to that time a few students pursued their ecclesiastical studies at the residence of the Archbishop. The number of students is now fourteen, and seven have been ordained who were educated at the seminary.

SANTA CLARA COLLEGE, SAN JOSE.

This establishment is under the superintendence of the Fathers of the Society of Jesus, and is open to all who choose to avail themselves of its advantages. It is situated in the beautiful valley of Santa Clara, so celebrated for the mildness and salubrity of its climate, and is about three miles distant from San José and quite close to the San José and San Francisco Railroad.

The college was founded in 1851. On the twenty-eighth of April, 1855, it was incorporated, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors, and to exercise all the rights and privileges common to any other literary institution in the United States. It has a full staff of professors, and presents advantages for the mental, physical and moral training of the students unsurpassed in California. It possesses a complete philosophical apparatus purposely made in Paris for Santa Clara College, and furnished with all necessary instruments for experiments in mechanics, hydraulics, pneumatics, caloric, electricity, magnetism, optics, acoustics, and surveying. New and important additions are being made every year to keep pace with the progress of science.

The chemical laboratory is provided with a full assortment of chemicals, a very good set of furnaces, and all that is necessary for the different kinds of chemical analysis. The museum of natural history comprises a collection of mineralogy of more than one thousand five hundred specimens; also three thousand specimens of shells and other natural curiosities. As an accessory to the scientific department there is a photographic gallery, where the students who wish may learn photography in all its different branches. Practical lessons are given also on the electric telegraph. The college library numbers about twenty-five hundred volumes.

CITY COLLEGE.

This is the name by which University College, incorporated in 1863, is popularly known; and it is used to designate both the College and the College School. It is, in fact, the name of the city department of University College, for, besides the large and valuable lot on the corner or Stockton and Geary Streets, the Trustees own an extensive site for University buildings four miles from the city, near the terminus of the Bay View Railroad.

The school was established in 1859 by the Rev. Geo. Burrowes, D.D., in the basement of Calvary Church, from which it was removed to its present location in 1862. To the buildings then erected, additions have since been made, as they have been needed, until nearly the whole front of three hundred feet on Stockton and Geary streets has been occupied with the main College building, the Chapel and the Chemical Laboratory. The Trustees are eighteen in number, and are empowered to confer degrees and academical honors. They have pursued a liberal and enlightened policy in promoting the interests of the institution, not only by providing ample buildings, admirably situated and furnished with chemical and philosophical apparatus, but also by employing a body of highly competent professors and teachers to conduct the instruction. Since the resignation, in 1865, of Dr. Burrowes, on account of the failure of his health, the institution has been under the direction of the Rev. P. V. Veeder, A.M., formerly tutor in Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., who, to the qualifications acquired by experience in teaching, adds those derived from extensive personal observation of the best schools in Prussia. The Chemical Laboratory on Stockton Street, is under the care of Professor Thomas Price, M.D., formerly Professor of Chemistry in the Normal College, Swansea, Wales. The Classical Department is under the care of Rev. Thomas Kirkland, a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. Instruction is given in Mathematics by Professor T. A. Robinson; in Physics, German and Spanish by Professor G. C. Arnold, a graduate of the University of Erlangen, and in French and Drawing by Professor A. Coulon, of the University of Paris. The Preparatory, English and Classical departments and the Primary school are amply provided with able and faithful teachers, and are well attended.

The whole institution is graded according to the best system practicable in this country. The courses of study are systematically arranged, and are such that a student may commence with the alphabet and steadily advance from grade to grade, until he has obtained a complete College education. In the Preparatory department he may be fitted for business or for College, and in the College he may pursue either a classical or a scientific course, terminating in the usual degree of Bachelor of Arts.

In the Laboratory on Stockton Street, the best facilities are afforded to graduates and others for obtaining a thorough practical knowledge of Chemistry in all its applications to Assaying, Mining, Pharmacy, the Manufacturing Arts, and Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis. A good number of practical miners, as well as others, have availed themselves of its advantages.

On the playground, in the rear of the College buildings, is an open Gymnasium for the use of the students. Shelter from rain is provided by means of sheds. Attention is paid to the physical as well as mental and moral culture of the pupils.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL.

This institution is under the charge of Mr. George Bates, M.A., a graduate of Cambridge University, England, where he took a high position as a scholar, and especially distinguished himself in mathematical science. Mr. Bates has had large experience in teaching, both in English and American schools, and spares neither pains nor exertion in the advancement of his pupils. As its name would imply, the scope and design of the University School is to afford special facilities for those who are preparing to enter American or foreign Universities; accordingly at least one-half of the number of pupils are engaged in the study of the classics. While this school commends itself to those who are desirous of securing for their sons the watchful care and constant supervision of competent teachers, it avoids the disadvantages attendant upon private tuition.

The University School is located on Post Street, between Stockton and Powell. The building is large and commodious, and has an ample playground attached.

GRACE FEMALE INSTITUTE,

Occupying the spacious school rooms of Grace Cathedral, was organized by Bishop Kip in March, 1864. The Rev. H. Goodwin was the first principal. He was succeeded in October, 1864, by the Rev. G. A. Easton. This seminary asks, and has thus far liberally received, the patronage of those parents and guardians who desire especially that the principles of the Gospel shall be daily and directly taught as the basis of instruction and rule of life. The principal is assisted by two teachers in the English, and two teachers in the French department.

CITY FEMALE SEMINARY.

This institution, which receives the undivided attention of its founder, Rev. Charles Russell Clarke, is located on the corner of Mason and O'Farrell Streets, in the immediate vicinity of the routes of the Central and Mission railroads. The principal is assisted by Mrs. Clarke, who has charge of the general supervision of the seminary, and by competent and experienced assistants in the different departments. Married and elderly ladies are received temporarily into the institution, which is open at all times to all who desire to select a permanent place for the education of their children, and those interested in the progress of institutions of learning. Number of pupils in attendance, ninety.

SYNAGOGUE EMANUEL RELIGIOUS SCHOOL.

Conducted at the vestry rooms of the Synagogue, under the superintendency of Dr. E. Cohn, by a Board of Education, Chairman, M. Heller, Esq., and seven teachers. The school numbers nearly 300 pupils, who meet for instruction Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4, and Sunday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock.

FEMALE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE, SANTA CLARA.

This institution is known as the Female Department of the University of the Pacific, and is patronized by the California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The charter for the University was granted by the Legislature in August, 1851. In May, 1852, the Rev. E. Bannister opened a preparatory school for both sexes in the central portion of the Institute edifice. A school, of which this may be considered the outgrowth, was commenced in December, 1852 under the auspices of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, by the same principal.

In December, 1853, the sexes were separated, and for this department the title "Female Collegiate Institute" adopted. It embraces three departments—primary, preparatory, and collegiate, with a faculty of instruction. The collegiate course extends over a period of three years. Ancient and modern languages are thoroughly taught; also all the usual ornamental branches.

The boarding department is limited, there being accommodation for about thirty boarding pupils. Day pupils are also received. The list of graduates is quite extended, though the exact number is not known by the author of this article. It has been successively under the care of Rev. E. Bannister, D.D., Rev. D. A. Dryden, Rev. J. Rodgers, Rev. G. S. Phillips, A.M., Rev. E. Bannister, D.D., and Rev. D. Tathill, A.M. It is at present in successful operation under the last named principal.

TOLAND MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The annual course of lectures at this institution commences on the first Monday of June, and continues four months. The college building is commodious, well located, and in every other respect admirably adapted for the purposes to which it is dedicated.

During the regular term the students will have an opportunity of visiting the various hospitals of the city, under circumstances which will enable them to observe medical and surgical treatment, to listen to clinical teaching, and make records of the progressive development of diseases, with the results of medicine and hygiene.

The faculty desire to call attention to the following local advantages: 1st. There is no climate, perhaps, in the world, which has a more invigorating effect upon persons coming from the interior of our States and Territories, thereby qualifying the votaries of study with essential health and inspiration. 2d. No city of the same population has more ample hospital facilities, or greater opportunities for organizing and maintaining the very best elements of clinical teaching. 3d. The singular characteristics of our climate are such that every branch of medical study can be prosecuted during the entire year. In winter or summer, dissections can be made without detriment to the health of the student.

H. H. Toland, M.D., President, Professor of Principles and Practice of Surgery; James Blake, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children; L. C. Lane, M.D., Professor of Anatomy; Campbell Shorb, M.D., Professor of Physiology; J. F. Morse, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine and Diagnosis; Thomas Bennett, M.D., Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine; Henry Gibbons, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica; Thomas Price, M.D., Professor of Chemistry; Thomas Bennett, M.D., Dean of Faculty.

Societies—Religious, Benevolent and Protective.

On page 663 of this volume will be found a full list of charitable associations and organizations established for the benefit and improvement of every class of humanity requiring aid and encouragement. It is, however, meet and pleasing to note the continued and regular increase in the number and importance of these indices of modern Christian civilization in our midst. There is probably no city in the world of the same population so well supplied with benevolent institutions and eleemosynary associations as San Francisco. Every nationality is represented by its charitable association; every want known to humanity is anticipated; every ill that flesh is heir to is ministered to by the kindly hand of benevolence and good fellowship. The vital force and active condition of these praiseworthy associations is the best refutation of the charge sometimes made that our people are absorbed in the worship of mammon. In no community in the world are the calls of distress more fully and liberally responded to. While our numerous benevolent institutions are so liberally sustained by private contribution and individual effort, the State has nobly contributed to the support of a number of this class of our institutions in the following liberal appropriations:

To the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind, $300 per annum for each pupil. Orphan Asylums—Protestant, $15,000; and Catholic, $10,000. To the Ladies' Protection and Relief Society, $6,000; to the Home of the Inebriate, $2,500; and Magdalen Asylum, $5,000.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

This society was organized in 1853, with a view to the moral, social and intellectual improvement of young men of all denominations, by means of a reading-room supplied with all the leading religious and secular papers, magazines, and periodicals, domestic and foreign, together with a well selected library of over two thousand volumes, embracing nearly every branch of general literature. Of these, about six hundred are religious, two hundred biographical, one hundred poetical, two hundred historical, two hundred travels, and seven hundred miscellaneous, as essays, sermons, classics, fiction, drama, law, philosophy, science, and art, standard works, bound magazines, and periodicals, commentaries, encyclopedias, dictionaries, reference books, public documents, etc.

The monthly meeting of the association is held on the third Monday evening of each month.

There is also a literary society conducted under the auspices of the association, called the "Senate," which meets at the rooms every Tuesday evening. The society is modeled after the Senate of the United States, each State being represented by a Senator. At its meetings, bills are introduced and national questions discussed, governed by all the rules of legislative bodies.

The association has recently purchased a very desirable lot, situated on the north side of Sutter Street, between Kearny and Dupont Streets, 54½ feet front, and running through to Berry Street, 120 feet in depth. On this they propose to erect immediately a three-story and basement brick edifice, arranged with every accommodation for the association. The plans embrace, on the first floor, two stores on Sutter Street for renting, a wide entrance and a Gymnasium, on the second floor large and commodious reading, conversation and library rooms, a parlor for ladies, and a Hall seating 800 persons for public meetings. The third floor is arranged for committee rooms and offices for renting.

The association numbers two hundred and eighty-six members of three classes: Life, Active and Associate.

To become a member, the name of the applicant must first be proposed for membership at a regular monthly meeting, by a member of the association, which proposal will be acted upon at the next monthly meeting; provided, said applicant has paid the yearly dues, which for an active member is five dollars, and for an associate, three. No initiation fee is charged. Members of evangelical churches in good standing, only, may become active members. Life members are constituted by the payment of one hundred dollars at any one time. Only active and life members are qualified to vote and eligible to office. The rooms of the association are at 526 California Street, opposite the California Market, and are open to the public the year round from 8, A.M. to 10, P.M. The library is open every day (Sundays excepted) from 3 to 10 o'clock, P.M.

Officers—George Barstow, President; D. C. Breed, Baptist, John Dunn, Presbyterian, W. F. Kellert, Methodist, C. J. King, Congregational, W. M. Culbery, Episcopal, Vice Presidents; James F. Crossett, Recording Secretary; Samuel W. Backus, Corresponding Secretary; H. L. Chamberlain, Treasurer; James Woodworth, Librarian.

LADIES' PROTECTION AND RELIEF SOCIETY.

This institution, organized August 4th, 1863, by the benevolent ladies of San Francisco, and incorporated August 9th the year following, has been productive of a large amount of good in relieving the distress of sick and destitute women and children, and providing employment for females desirous of procuring work. To carry out this praiseworthy object, the society has erected a Home on Franklin Street, between Post and Geary, where protection, aid, and information is cheerfully furnished to all residents and strangers included within the sphere of its benevolent operations. The Legislature of 1863-4, amongst other appropriations for the assistance of the benevolent institutions of the State, allotted this association $6,000, which aided in paying for the Home.

From the organization of the society, till the first of April, 1865, a large part of the work has been caring for families in the city who needed assistance in the way of provisions, fuel, clothing, nurses, medical aid, and medicines, payment of rents, etc. A total of sixty-one families were aided in this manner, during the seven months ending April 1st, 1865, besides the maintenance of the Home. At the time referred to, the San Francisco Benevolent Society commenced its work, and generously assumed the care of the cases then on our hands, and all subsequent out-door work of that kind.

During the past year, nearly two hundred adults and children have been inmates of the Home; of these, many have been indentured or adopted. The ages of the children range from one to fourteen years.

A school is maintained at the Home, in which all the children old enough are daily taught all the elementary branches. The average number of scholars the past year has been upwards of one hundred. Gratifying improvement has been made; but the changes incident to the plan of operations often remove the most promising. Yet this is the only way to secure the highest good of the child, as it has never been any part of the plans of the society to assume the permanent support or education of any.

ORPHAN ASYLUM (PROTESTANT).

This benevolent and praiseworthy institution was organized January 31st, 1851, and incorporated by Act of the Legislature on the tenth of the ensuing month. To the almost unaided efforts of a few ladies we are indebted for this noble institution, which now stands as a monument to their charity and goodness of heart. The asylum was first located on the corner of Folsom and Second Streets, in a building owned by General H. W. Halleck, from whence it was removed in March, 1854, to the present building, a commodious and elegant stone structure, which was finished at an expense of $30,000. This building occupies the block bounded by Laguna, Octavia, Page and Webster Streets, and is roomy and adequate to the wants of the class for whose benefit it has been founded. Dependent mainly upon private benevolence for support, the institution is one of the proudest monuments of the liberality of the people of San Francisco. In the construction of the building two important matters have been carefully kept in view, which are too often lost sight of in the planning of many public buildings of the present day—ventilation and light. To the abundant supply of fresh air introduced into every portion of the building, combined with the abundant and substantial supply of food furnished the children, and the daily exercise allowed them, may be attributed the unexampled health of the inmates. Every department is thorough and complete, clean, orderly, and well kept; the dormitories are spacious and airy, with everything neat and comfortable; large play-rooms are provided for the exercise of the children, when confined in-doors by the weather; the school room, dining room, kitchen, laundry, wash and bath rooms, are all upon a scale commensurate with the wants of the institution, and everything connected with each is arranged and conducted in the most admirable manner. In the school the children are taught the solid branches, with the addition of drawing and exercises in singing, and in point of aptness and proficiency the pupils will compare favorably with any of the public schools of the city. The elevated location of the asylum commands a view of a great portion of the city and bay, with the opposite shore, and when further improvements are made to the grounds, which are very much needed, a more picturesque and beautiful spot cannot be anywhere found in the vicinity of the city. The Legislature of 1864 appropriated $15,000 for the support of this institution, and for the improvement of the orphan grounds.

The present number of inmates is one hundred and seventy-nine, of which seventy-six are girls; and of this number but a very small proportion are from San Francisco. The whole State, and indeed the entire Pacific Coast, claims for its orphans a home and a shelter in the San Francisco Orphan Asylum; and applications constantly being made from even the most remote parts of this and adjoining States and Territories, asking admission sometimes for whole families of orphan children, prove that this institution is being known throughout the land; and through the liberality of its patrons, and the assistance rendered by the State, its managers are enabled to give favorable replies to these numerous calls.

ROMAN CATHOLIC ORPHAN ASYLUM.

This truly charitable institution, whose end is the moral and physical training of the countless orphans of our State, is located on the south side of Market Street, between Second and Third. The principal buildings fronting on Market Street, contain dormitories, refectories, clothes-rooms, &c., while the infirmary, kitchen, and laundry occupy the buildings in the rear. The rooms are commodious and well ventilated. Every care is taken of the health of the inmates. The extensive play ground affords an adequate resource of out-door exercise, while the spacious recreation hall offers a similar means for indoor amusement.

A branch of this institution is situated at Hunter's Point, for small children of both sexes, and those whose delicate constitutions require the country air. The two Asylums are under the care of the Most Rev. Archbishop Alemany and the Sisters of Charity.

SAINT VINCENT SCHOOL.

This is a female day school, on Jessie Street, between Second and Third, under the direction of the Sisters of Charity. All the solid branches of education are taught, with music and other accomplishments. The number of pupils is over eight hundred.

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND ASYLUM.

This institution, at present located on the corner of Mission and Fourteenth Streets, will be removed to the site at Oakland recently selected by the State Commissioners as soon as the buildings now in the course of erection can be completed. The immediate control of the institution was originally assigned to a board of benevolent ladies; but the last Legislature passed a law placing the management under the control of a Board of Commissioners. At present there are seventy pupils, of whom twenty-five are blind. The pupils are under the charge of competent teachers, who instruct them in reading, writing, needle-work, etc.—the blind being also instructed in music. While this is a charitable institution, the benefits of which are denied to none, parents who are able are required to pay a small sum yearly for the care and attention bestowed upon their unfortunate children. See Benevolent Associations, page 672.

SAN FRANCISCO BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.

Of all the benevolent institutions established in our city none have been productive of more real, substantial and lasting good in proportion to the means employed than the San Francisco Benevolent Association. Although less than three years old—filling up, as it has done, a most important hiatus in the benevolent institutions of the day—this association has, in a quiet and unpretentious way, been productive of incalculable good. It was organized at a time when the want of such an institution was most severely felt and its aid most essentially needed. While our City and State were eliciting the admiration of the entire Union for the liberality of their largesses to the various funds for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers, there was here at home in our very midst, a large amount of suffering which was unrelieved and unprovided for. This was not so much owing to the apathy or indifference of such of our citizens as were able and willing to relieve the wants of the deserving, as from the fact that such cases were comparatively unknown, or their knowledge in a majority of instances confined to but the few, who were in most cases compelled to seek them out. Hundreds, even in our own active and busy community, able and willing to work—in many cases recently landed upon these shores, penniless, destitute, literally strangers in a strange land—were unable to find employment, and many deserving objects, suffering from destitution and disease, were deterred from seeking aid by that barrier of personal pride and self-respect which ever forms a barrier around those who have seen better days. A few public-spirited and charitable citizens, fully alive to the work, and seriously desiring to relieve the necessities and procure the means of livelihood for the sensitive and deserving, formed this association and established an agency for carrying out this laudable design, where parties needing assistance and employment might without degradation in their own estimation make such application. The public were requested, through the papers, to send all persons soliciting aid on the street to the agency, and to call the attention of the management to any cases requiring aid or relief, which might come to their knowledge. The benefits of this system were at once made apparent—our citizens were no longer importuned for alms on the public streets, suitable employment was afforded upon application at the office, to all desirous of obtaining work and earning an honest livelihood. No great parade was made, no public appeals for aid, but through assistance quietly rendered the association pursued the even tenor of its way, bestowing its benefits like the dew which fall from heaven, silently and unostentatiously. The only direct appeal made to the public at large for aid was in the placing contribution boxes at the different polling places at the recent elections, from which source—the voting population having become sensible of the manifold benefits of this organization, and fully assured that their charities would reach the proper objects, which we regret to say is not always the case—quite a handsome sum was realized.

Officers—Robert B. Swain, President; J. W. Stow, Treasurer; I. S. Allen, Secretary; R. B. Swain, R. G. Sneath, J. W. Stow, L. Sachs, Levi Stevens, W. C. Ralston, Dr. D. W. C. Rice, Trustees. The rooms of the association are at 409 Kearny.

LADIES' SEAMEN'S FRIEND SOCIETY.

At a time when no one seemed to care for the sailor in this our great commercial city—his wants and necessities, whether in sickness or in health, all uncares for; no home of comfort provided for him, and only the low haunts of vice and dissipation afforded Jack a resting place as he came in from the deep waters—this society was established by a few ladies whose sympathies had been called forth in behalf of this important class of our fellow men. It dates from March 26th, 1856—the object being “to relieve shipwrecked and destitute seamen, to establish a boarding house where they may find a home and protection against the pernicious influences and injustice to which they are subjected in this port; to supply the destitute with clothing, and to place within their reach the means for moral and intellectual improvement.” It commends itself as truly philanthropic—its basis, universal benevolence, irrespective of sect or country. With unabated zeal and untiring efforts the ladies who are engaged in this meritorious work, notwithstanding the heavy rents to which they are subjected, have sustained a comfortable boarding house, and furnished aid to hundreds of sick and destitute sailors, who otherwise must have suffered, inasmuch as the Revenue Laws of our country precluded their admission (under the circumstances) into the Marine Hospital.

Their annual appeal to the Legislature for an appropriation to enable them to purchase a lot and build a Sailors' Home has, as yet, been unheeded.

During the progress of the Mechanics' Institute exhibition in 1865, the enterprising managers of the society conducted a New England Kitchen at the Pavilion, the results of which have materially assisted them in carrying into effect their very praiseworthy object—to erect a Home in this city that will succor many a weary “Son of the Ocean,” and one that will make a worthy addition to the numerous benevolent institutions of this city. The society has established a temporary home on the SW cor. of Vallejo and Battery Streets, which has been attended with gratifying results.

EUREKA BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The formation of this society dates back to October, 1850, when, according to the records, to the following gentlemen the credit of establishing this excellent institution is due: J. Jacobs, M. Dittmann, P. Schloss, M. Fischel, A. Helbing, M. Hellman, E. Dittmann, S. Lazard, J. Lehman, L. Reinstein, A. Blumenthal, D. Baumfrund, and J. Zeiler.

The management of the affairs of this society is placed in the hands of a Board of Trustees, consisting of a President, Vice President, Treasurer, and six Trustees. The Board of Trustees are required to hold regular monthly meetings, and for the purpose of dividing the labors among the several members thereof, the by-laws provide for the appointment of the following committees: On finance, charity, sick, burial, and real estate. The Secretary, Physician, and Collector are elected by the Board of Trustees, and their compensation is fixed by them.

New members can only be elected at either of the four general meetings held during the months of March, June, September, and December, and it requires a majority consisting of four-fifths of the votes cast to elect, when, after the payment of ten dollars' initiation fee and his regular monthly dues of one dollar and twenty-five cents, the applicant is entitled to all the rights and privileges of a member. Life memberships can be obtained upon the payment of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, which exempts from payment of dues thereafter. The original object of this society consisted in furnishing assistance to the poor, in attending the sick, and burying the dead; but in the month of March, 1858, an act was passed at a general meeting establishing a widow and orphan fund, for the benefit of widows and orphans of deceased members. The act provides that one-half of all initiation fees and one-fifth of the monthly dues and one-fourth of all extraordinary incomes shall be placed to the credit of this fund. The original amount set apart, before any use can be made of its means, was $5,000, which has since been amended, and the by-laws now require that the fund must reach $30,000 before any part of it can be expended. This fund now amounts to the sum of $25,000, and the general fund possesses about $25,000, making the combined capital of the institution at present upwards of $50,000.

The funds of the society are partly invested in real estate, and in money loaned out on indorsed notes at current rates of interest. The society has now about three hundred and eighty members, and is increasing at the rate of thirty members per year.

Nearly all the society's money for years past has been loaned out upon notes, yet not a dollar has ever been lost, and of the large amount of charity distributed, which will reach a sum perhaps not less than $75,000, not $2,000 has been paid to members, because they have fortunately not required it, and have consequently not asked for it.

Many persons have been relieved with the money of this institution without ever knowing from what source such relief emanated, and hundreds who found themselves here without help and means have been returned to their friends and relatives in the Eastern States or Europe with the assistance of this institution.

The following gentlemen have officiated as presiding officers of this society since its organization: August Helbing for seven years, Dr. J. Regensburger for one year, H. D. Silverman for one year, L.

Tichner for two years, A. Wassermann for two years, B. Schloss for one year, Henry Regensburger for one year, and William Steinbart for two years.

In common with the congregation Emanu-El, this society is in part owner of the Home of Peace Cemetery, near the Mission Dolores, which is inclosed with a brick wall, and otherwise in a high state of improvement. The books of the institution show an expenditure of upwards of $6,000 towards this very laudable object.

Present officers—Wm. Steinhart, President; Jos. Brandenstein, Vice President; M. Mayblum, Treasurer; I. Greenbaum, Secretary; M. Steppacher, Collector; Dr. J. Regensburger, Physician; L. Seligman, J. Cerf, H. Greenberg, S. Levy, S. Haas, and A. Helbing, Trustees.

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

This reformatory institution is still in successful operation, and is doing a large amount of good in rescuing youth, otherwise uncared for, from evil associations; breaking up and eradicating bad habits at the outset of life. It has already elicited the gratitude of many a youth of talents and noble impulses, started upon a downward career, but by means of this institution reclaimed, educated, and afforded the means of becoming useful members of society. The whole number of pupils admitted since the first opening of the school, May 3d, 1859, is six hundred and fifty-seven, of whom five hundred and twenty-seven were boys and one hundred and thirty girls. The number admitted during the past year was one hundred, of whom eighty-nine were boys and eleven girls. Additions have been made to the school building, materially enhancing the comfort and accommodations of the inmates. Among these is a dining room of a capacity sufficient to accommodate over two hundred children. The following are the officers of the institution:

Officers—William G. Badger, President; Jacob Deeth, Vice President; John Archibald, Treasurer; James S. Thomson, Secretary.

PRISONERS' AID SOCIETY.

A new organization has recently been established in this city, having in view the assistance and reformation of men who have been accused and imprisoned for crime, with the following named gentlemen as officers for the ensuing year: J. F. Morse, M.D., President; Alphens Bull, Vice President; James Woodworth, Secretary and General Agent; M. J. O'Connor, Treasurer.

BRITISH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

This association, originally organized in 1865, was re-organized in May last, and has at the present time (July, 1867) over four hundred paying members on its rolls. For the year ending April 30th, 1867, four hundred and fifty-five persons were assisted, at an expense of $2,314 76. (See Benevolent Associations, page 666.)

GERMAN GENERAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

This association, composed exclusively of Germans, and those who speak their language, was organized January 7th, 1854, for the mutual attendance upon and relief of its members, and especially the protection and aid of newly arrived German immigrants. The large and commodious Hospital erected by the association on Brannan Street, near Third, where every possible comfort and accommodation adequate to the wants of the sick can be obtained, is an enduring monument of the liberality and philanthropy of this provident class of our citizens.

ST. MARY'S LADIES' SOCIETY.

This society, which was originally founded in 1850, by the Sisters of Mercy, for the dissemination of piety among the females of the Catholic Church, and afterwards converted into a mutual benevolent association, holds its meetings in the Hall erected for that purpose adjoining the St. Mary's Hospital, to which its labors are mainly devoted, the officers being selected from the Sisters of Mercy. It is one of the most flourishing of all the benevolent associations, and numbers some six hundred contributing members.

ST. JOSEPH'S BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

This society is composed of the male members of the Roman Catholic Church, for the aid of those in distress and the consolation and relief of the afflicted. Although mainly devoted to attending to the sick, burying the dead, and relieving the families left in needy circumstances by its own members, its benevolent operations are not exclusively confined to its own limits, but administer to the wants of all such afflicted as come within its notice.

MAGDALEN ASYLUM.

This reformatory institution is located on the San Bruno Road, and is under the charge and direction of the Sisters of Mercy.

During the past year a large and commodious building, three stories in height, has been erected for the accommodation of the inmates of the asylum. Since the foundation of this institution nearly one hundred females have been received, most of whom have been reformed by the influence and attention of those in charge. At the present time there are sixty penitents, attended by seven Sisters of Mercy.

DASHAWAY ASSOCIATION.

This widely-known Temperance organization, originally founded on the twenty-fourth day of May, 1859, by the members of Howard Engine Company, has increased to an astonishing extent, numbering over six thousand members. A large and elegant hall has been erected on Post Street, between Dupont and Kearny, by the parent association, devoted to the business and social meetings of the members. The affairs of the association are in a most flourishing condition, and the sphere of its usefulness constantly extending. From this parent stock auxiliary societies have sprung up, and are in successful operation all over the State. The name of "Dashaway" has become a household word.

TEMPERANCE LEGION.

This new organization, established February 1st, 1866, has already over eight hundred members on its roll, and is increasing rapidly in numbers. Its business affairs are conducted with energy, and the limits of its usefulness are being extended correspondingly.

EUREKA TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

This society was organized in 1858, for the purpose of protecting the interests and rendering aid and assistance to distressed members of the "Art Preservative of all Arts." It numbers some two hundred members, and is in a very flourishing condition. An arrangement has been made by this society with the managers of St. Mary's Hospital, by which the sick receive medical attendance and nursing. The society recently purchased a burial lot in Lone Mountain Cemetery, which they design decorating and ornamenting in a becoming manner.

FRENCH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

This is a mutual benevolent association, formed in 1851, by a number of French citizens, for the aid and relief of its members, although its action is not confined exclusively to that class. A spacious and commodious hospital, with handsomely laid out grounds, has been erected by this association on Bryant, between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

LADIES' UNITED HEBREW BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

This praiseworthy association was established in 1855, by the ladies of the Israelitish faith, for the aid of the distressed among the women of that people, to attend to the sick, bury the dead, aid the poor, and relieve the wants of the distressed. The objects of the association have been carried out with the untiring zeal and philanthropic spirit with which it originated.

ITALIAN BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.

The somewhat limited, but industrious, thrifty, and provident portion of our citizens, the Italians, have not been behind other and more numerous classes in their provision for the sick and distressed among their ranks. This society has an arrangement with the managers of St. Mary's Hospital, by which every provision is made for the care of those entitled to its protection and relief.

Hospitals.

There is, perhaps, no city in the world of its age and population better supplied with public and private hospitals than San Francisco. Essentially cosmopolitan in the constituent parts of its population, and embracing as it does representatives from all portions of the globe, each nationality has its benevolent associations, one of the principal objects of which is to make ample provision for the care of its sick. The greater portion of those unfortunates, injured by the casualties constantly occurring in the mines, resort to San Francisco for medical and surgical treatment; hence it is that the public and private hospitals of the city are almost constantly crowded.

The following comprises the leading institutions of this character located here:

THE UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL.

This spacious brick building, two hundred feet long by one hundred feet in width, and four stories high, was erected by the U. S. Government on the Government Reserve at Rincon Point, in the year 1853. It is capable of containing several hundred patients, and is devoted exclusively to the use of the sick and disabled belonging to the national and merchant marine service, including landsmen engaged in the inland and coast trade. The number of patients admitted each year is about one thousand, and the number of annual deaths near twenty-two; the average number of patients is about one hundred. The officers in charge of the hospital, who are appointed by the Government, are a Surgeon, Apothecary, Steward, and Matron.

THE CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL.

This spacious building, which is of brick, and three stories high, located on the corner of Stockton and Francisco Streets, was opened for the reception of patients in July, 1857. The lower floor is occupied by the offices of the resident physician and attendants, with a surgical ward, and cells for the safe keeping of insane patients. The second floor is occupied by surgical patients, dining hall, apothecary's room, contractor's storeroom, and kitchen. The medical patients are allowed the third floor, a number of small rooms in the rear being set apart for female patients. The supplies of the hospital—food, fuel, lights, and washing—are furnished by contract. The officers are one visiting and one resident physician, apothecary, and contractor.

The sum of $60,000 is annually appropriated for the maintenance of this institution; also for support of a Small Pox Hospital, $6,000 per annum.

ALMS HOUSE AND HOSPITAL.

The Legislature of 1865-6 authorized the setting apart of eighty acres of land in the County of San Francisco, and the erection thereon of suitable buildings for an Alms House. For the expenses thereof, they appropriated the amount heretofore allowed for the improvement of the present hospital buildings, viz: $125,000, and an additional sum of $20,000 for the purchase of the necessary furniture. Under this authority, commodious buildings are now in course of erection in the vicinity of Lake Honda. For the Act of the Legislature establishing this institution, see page 640.

ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL.

This is the most extensive private hospital in the City of San Francisco, and is under the charge of the Sisters of Mercy. The portion completed is one hundred and sixty feet in length by seventy-five in width, built of brick, and four stories high. The ceilings are lofty, the rooms well lighted and ventilated, with warm, cold, and shower baths on each floor, and lighted with gas throughout. In addition to twelve spacious and commodious wards, furnished with all that is to be found in the best regulated sanitary institutions, there are a number of private rooms neatly fitted up and completely arranged for the accommodation of patients.

MAISON DE SANTE.

This hospital, founded by the French Mutual Benevolent Society, was opened March 15th, 1858. It is a brick building, situated in the center of a hundred vara lot, and is surrounded with trees and shrubbery, forming a pleasant promenade and exercising ground for patients. The building contains two general wards, fitted up with twelve beds each, eight with four beds each, and a large number of private rooms, several of which are appropriated to ladies. The whole is neatly furnished, and heated throughout with hot water—the hospital being also supplied with warm, cold, shower, and steam baths. The officers are two physicians, a superintendent, and an apothecary.

THE GERMAN HOSPITAL.

This is a brick building with a front of one hundred and twelve feet, with a depth of fifty feet, attached to which is a rear wing of one hundred and twenty-two by twenty-three feet, two stories with a basement, with surrounding grounds laid out and arranged, and ornamented with shrubbery and flowers, under careful cultivation, one hundred and thirty-seven by two hundred and eighty-five feet in extent. The two stories are divided into general wards and private rooms for the physicians and attendants in charge. The building is amply supplied with warm, cold, shower, and steam baths, and every appliance for the proper care and treatment of the sick.

WOMAN'S HOSPITAL.

This is the name of an institution recently established at 743 Howard Street, under the patronage and recommendation of a number of our leading citizens. Every attention and care is guaranteed to the afflicted.

Cemeteries.

There is, perhaps, no feature connected with a prominent city that occupies a greater degree of interest in the estimation of strangers and visitors than its cemeteries. One of the most attractive spots to the visitor to the great American metropolis is the "City of the Dead" at Greenwood. The peaceful shades of Mount Auburn have a melancholy charm to those who make a pilgrimage to the great capital of the Bay State, and no one enters the City of Brotherly Love without seeing the classic monuments, tastefully laid out, beautifully adorned, and admirably-kept grounds at Laurel Hill. Other cities of lesser extent and fewer years exhibit equal taste and regard for the depositories of their dead. Spring Grove at Cincinnati, Mount Hope at Rochester, the Albany Cemetery, and numerous others, are examples of taste in the selection of the location and beauty of adorning and arrangement. In all modern places selected for the repose of the departed, good taste has retained the primitive forest trees—the monarchs of the groves themselves being fitting monuments "not made with hands." In point of beauty of locality, our own Lone Mountain and Calvary Cemeteries, situated as they are in full view of that grandest of all monuments, the mighty ocean, are nowhere surpassed. There is a fitness and sublimity in their contiguity to the waves of the Pacific and the entrance to the Golden Gate, that never fails to impress every beholder. In the way of monuments erected to the memory of the departed by the hand of affection and regard, many may be found in the city cemeteries which are alike models of artistic elegance and pure and refined taste.

There are eight cemeteries in this city. The Mission Burial Ground, (no longer used as a place of interment) established in 1776; Laurel Hill (late Lone Mountain) in 1854; Calvary in 1860; Masonic in 1864; Odd Fellows in 1865; Neval Shalome in 1865; Gibboth Olom in 1865, and the San Francisco Cemetery Association established in 1867. The latter is a new organization, which has purchased an extensive tract of land, a portion of the San Miguel Rancho, situated south of Lake Honda, and will soon have it ready for cemetery purposes. The number of interments to July 1st, 1867, in six of the above named cemeteries, is as follows, viz: Laurel Hill, 14,000; Calvary, 41,000; Masonic, 200; Odd Fellows, 200; Neval Shalome, 300; Gibboth Olom, 300.

Associations—Protective, Literary, Etc.

For a description of the different associations the reader is referred to the Appendix, page 678, in which will be found the officers and operations of each during the past year. The progress made by many of these associations reflects credit upon the members thereof, and is worthy of the liberality so generously exhibited in their support.

The Masonic and Odd Fellows' Orders.

Among the most prominent of our public institutions are these benevolent orders. There is, probably, no city in the Union where these associations are in a more flourishing condition than in San Francisco. Each of these orders owns a handsome property—fine building with handsome halls for the use of the association. In the elegant building owned by the Masonic Order, built by a joint-stock association of the members, there are four large halls for the use of the lodges, and a large banqueting hall, with ante-rooms, committee rooms, and offices. This structure is one of the handsomest public buildings of our city.

The Odd Fellows' Order is also in a most flourishing condition, having recently purchased and fitted up for the use of the order the property on Montgomery Street, between California and Pine, known as Tucker's Hall. The library of this institution is one of the best in the city, abounding in rare works, relating especially to the history of our State.

For list of the different associations, and the officers of each, see Appendix, page 673.

Fire Department.

The new paid Fire Department has been in operation since December 3d, 1867, and has fully met the expectations of those under whose direction its management is placed. The expense attending its operations is considerably in excess of the amount named in the law providing for its organization, but it is believed that the advantages of the present system over the old one will more than compensate for the difference. On page 591 of this volume will be found the law organizing the Department, and on page 647 is a description in detail, in which will be found a mass of information concerning the different companies, useful to its members and interesting to every citizen.

Railroads.

Extensive improvements have been made in the various railroads laid down in and leading out of San Francisco since the publication of the Directory of last year. In fact, no department of our public improvements more fully indicates the untiring industry and enterprise of our people, or the sagacious employment of capital by those desirous of making profitable and steadily remunerating investments. The benefits to the public by the introduction of street cars, affording a convenient, comfortable, and cheap mode of travel through the various thoroughfares to extreme points of the city, are incalculable. These people's carriages are certainly a great public convenience, and their introduction has doubled and trebled the value of property in the more distant portions, as well as outside of the city. Incredible as it may seem, the carriage distance traveled by some of the street cars, with but three relays of horses, is near a hundred miles a day.

The following is a list of the railroads leading out of and in the vicinity of the city, in operation at present, or in prospective, with a list of the officers, and the action of the same during the past year.

SAN FRANCISCO AND SAN JOSE RAILROAD.

This company was incorporated July 21st, 1860, with a capital stock of $2,000,000. The road was completed in January, 1863, and is pronounced by competent railroad men to be one of the staunchest built roads in the United States. On the seventeenth day of October, 1863, the first train passed over the portion of the road finished from the Mission Dolores to Big Tree Station on the San Francisquito Creek. On the sixteenth day of January, 1864, the road was completed to San José, and trains commenced running to that place; and later, on the fourteenth day of February following, the San Francisco end of the road was extended to the corner of Fourth and Brannan Streets, and trains commenced running from that point to San José direct. The principal depot at present is at the corner of Valencia and Market Streets. The company now runs three passenger trains over the road each way daily. One freight train is run each way daily. Stages connect at the principal stations and at San José with the morning and evening trains to and from important points. Officers: H. M. Newhall, President; Peter Donabue, Vice President; D. O. Mills, Treasurer; J. L. Willcutt, Secretary; Richard P. Hammond, General Superintendent.

THE MARKET STREET RAILWAY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

This company was incorporated in 1857, under the name of "The San Francisco and Market Street Railroad Company," and was the first Street Railway enterprise inaugurated in our city. Though the terms of the charter originally contemplated that it should be used as a horse-railroad, yet by subsequent Legislative Acts, privilege was granted that steam might be used as a motive power for a limited period.

On the 4th day of July, 1860, the first train was run over the road from its eastern terminus to Center Street, (the road having afterwards been completed west to the city limits) and continued to be operated with steam until the 5th day of March, 1867, since which date the service of the road has been performed with horse cars, the entire route extending from the water front, over Market and Valencia Streets to 25th Street, with a branch road to Hayes Park.

Officers—Charles Mayne, President; Henry Barroillet, Treasurer; J. L. Willcutt, Secretary; J. W. Shaw, General Superintendent.

OMNIBUS RAILROAD.

This is the most extensive in its operations of any of our street railroads. Its capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of one hundred dollars each. There are two lines of this road: one running from Powell and Francisco along Powell to Union, Union to Stockton, Stockton to Jackson and Washington, down these streets to Sanson, through these streets to Market, along Market to Second, along Second to Howard, along Howard to Third, and along Third to King Street. The other route is from the intersection of Washington and Montgomery Streets, through the latter to Second, through the latter to Howard, Center, and the Mission Dolores, with a branch from Market through Third to Howard. The cars run northwardly along Montgomery Street to 12 o'clock, M., and southwardly after that time each day. The road is entirely completed, and the rails laid down, if reduced to a single track, would amount to ten miles and one-third. It has twenty-four cars constantly running, and eight in reserve for extra service. One hundred and five men and two hundred and thirty-seven horses are kept constantly employed. The depot on Howard Street, under Union Hall, is one of the largest structures of the city, being ninety-four feet, six inches front, by one hundred and sixty feet in depth. The extensive stables, built of brick, two stories high, by the company, front on Minna, running back to Clementina Street, one hundred and fifty-seven by one hundred and sixty feet. The officers of this company are: Eugene Casserly, President; J. O. Eldridge, Vice President; W. H. Lyons, Treasurer; James O'Neil, Secretary; and John Gardner, Superintendent.

FRONT STREET, MISSION, AND OCEAN RAILROAD.

The Legislature of 1862-'3 granted to William F. Nelson and others the franchise to lay down a railroad along and upon the following streets: Beginning at or near the intersection of Greenwich with Front Street, and thence along Front Street to Market Street, thence along Market to Sutter Street, thence along Sutter to Larkin Street, thence along Larkin to Pacific Street to the charter limits, with the right of continuation along the said line of Pacific Street to the Ocean Beach, whenever said street is declared open by the proper authorities of the City and County of San Francisco, with an intersecting railroad connecting at the junction of Sutter and Larkin Street, thence running southwardly along Larkin to Market Streets, and along and across Market to Johnson Street, thence along Johnson to Mission Street, thence along Mission to Sparks Street, thence along and upon Sparks to Dolores Street, thence along Dolores to Corbett Street, thence along Corbett to Mission Street, thence along Mission to Sparks Street; together with the right to lay and maintain an iron railroad from the intersection of Corbett with Mission Street, along and upon Mission Street to the charter limits of said city and county—making the entire length of the road about one and two-thirds miles.

Under the charter the company have completed the road from the foot of Broadway, running through Broadway, Battery, Sutter, Polk to Broadway, and have furnished it with every facility for the accommodation of the public.

Officers—N. D. Arnot, President; William Blackwood, Vice President; John Barton, Treasurer; James B. Naudain, Secretary; A. Fuller, Superintendent.

NORTH BEACH AND MISSION RAILROAD.

The North Beach and Mission Railroad Company was organized by a consolidation of the San Francisco City Railroad Company and the North and South Beach Railroad Company, charters for which were granted by the Legislature of California, April 17th, 1861. The company have two routes on which cars are run, viz: from the corner of Mason and Francisco Streets, through Mason, Greenwich, Powell, Kearny, and Fourth Streets to Townsend Street, where the line connects with Potrero and Bay View Railroad, which crosses Long Bridge and continues to Bay View Park; also, from the Plaza through California, Battery, First, and Folsom Streets, to Twenty-second Street and the grounds formerly known as the "Union Race Course." The connection with Long Bridge, the extension of the road to the foot of Mason Street, the opening of the City Gardens on Folsom Street, and the uninterrupted increase of improvements on the line of Folsom Street, have increased the business of this company at least twenty-five per cent. during the past year, and the prospect is fair for further improvement.

Twenty-five cars are employed to accommodate the daily travel on these routes, and the company have twelve cars which are reserved for extra occasions.

Their cars are built in their own workshop, and are considered superior to any imported. The car-houses, stables, blacksmith's shop, and all appurtenances necessary will compare favorably with those of any institution of the kind in this State.

An artesian well on the premises furnishes water for horses and all purposes required, and one hundred men and two hundred horses are employed to carry on the working of the company's business.

The company was incorporated August 23d, 1862. The capital stock is one million dollars, divided into ten thousand shares of one hundred dollars each.

The present Board of Directors are James T. Boyd, Michael Reese, Hon. John S. Hager, Alphens Bull, Michael Skelly, John G. Bray, and E. F. Northam.

Officers—James T. Boyd, President; Michael Reese, Treasurer; W. Southwick, Secretary; M. Skelly, Superintendent. The depot and office of the company are on the southwest corner of Fourth and Louisa Streets.

CENTRAL RAILROAD.

This railroad was chartered by Act of the Legislature of 1862. Incorporated in 1862. Capital stock, five hundred thousand dollars, in five thousand shares. The route traversed is: from the corner of Davis and Vallejo streets, through Davis to Washington, along Washington to Sansom, along Sansom to Bush, and through Bush to Dupont, along Dupont to Post, through Post to Stockton, along Stockton to Geary, through Geary to Taylor, along Taylor and Sixth to Brannan, and along Brannan to the bridge at Mission Creek. From Taylor Street a branch track runs along Turk to Fillmore, along Fillmore to Post, and along Post to Lone Mountain Cemetery. The entire length of this railroad is five miles of double track, and about one-third of a mile of single track. The car houses and stables of the company are situated at the termini on Brannan Street and at Lone Mountain, and the office is on Taylor Street near Turk. The Central Railroad is completed and has been running for four years, to the great accommodation of the public and the manifest benefit of real estate in the suburbs.

The officers of the company are: R. J. Vandewater, President; B. M. Hartshorne, Vice President; A. J. Gunnison, Treasurer; J. T. Hoyt, Secretary; J. A. McGlynn, Superintendent.

CITY RAILROAD.

This company was incorporated by Act of the Legislature, approved April 21st, 1863, and organized May 20th, 1863. The capital stock of one million dollars is divided into ten thousand shares of one hundred dollars each. The first assessment of ten thousand dollars has already been paid in.

The officers of the City Railroad are: Isaac Rowell, President; E. W. Casey, Secretary.

POTRERO AND BAY VIEW RAILROAD.

In the Legislature of 1866, the right was granted to Edward Tompkins, Elijah Case, J. C. Birdseye, Wm. F. Williamson, John Kirkpatrick and others, to lay down and maintain an iron railroad within the city and county of San Francisco, along and upon the following route, viz: commencing at the intersection of Post and Montgomery Streets, thence along and upon Post Street to Powell, along Powell to Market, across Market Street to its intersection with Fifth Street, along Fifth Street to Townsend, thence to the Bridge over Mission Bay, thence over the Bridge to the New Potrero, thence along Kentucky Street across the Potrero, thence southerly by the most practicable route to the Bay View Race Course, or to Hunter's Point.

In the month of September, 1866, Mr. J. R. Myers the contractor, commenced operations in the Potrero Hill, and since that time there has been an excavation made in the hill, from which there has been taken nearly 100,000 cubic yards. There has been a bridge almost as long as the Mission Bay Bridge, spread across Islais Creek Cove, and the road is now completed some distance beyond Potrero Hill. The cost reaches to nearly $150,000.

The officers are as follows: James W. McDonald, President; L. L. Robinson, Vice President; Louis Vessaria, Secretary; H. F. Williams, Treasurer.

THE WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

This company was incorporated December 11th, 1862, with a capital stock of $5,400,000, for the purpose of constructing a railroad from San José to Sacramento by the way of Stockton. The route is one hundred and twenty miles in length, and connecting with the San Francisco and San José Railroad forms the second link in the great Pacific Railroad chain. Of the capital stock of this road, $400,000 has been subscribed by San Francisco County; $250,000 by San Joaquin, and $150,000 by Santa Clara County. The remainder is furnished by heavy capitalists of San Francisco.

This road has been recently purchased by the energetic and enterprising gentlemen who have exhibited so much ability in the management of the affairs of the Central Pacific Railroad. It is contemplated to complete the road to Sacramento during the year 1868. The grading of the road from San José to Vallejo Mills, a distance of twenty-three miles, is already finished, and cars are running to that point.

The officers of the company are: Leland Stanford, President; C. P. Huntington, Vice President; E. H. Miller, Secretary.

Homestead Associations.

One of the most important as well as pleasing features in the unexampled progress of our city, is the organization of numerous Homestead Associations, which, by united effort and consolidated capital, place it within the scope and means of any industrious and prudent individual to secure a tract that he can call his own, and secure to him the proud title of "lord of the soil." In all civilized countries, the moral and healthful effect produced upon communities, and more especially the so-called industrial classes, by the ownership of a fee simple in the soil, has ever been the subject of laudation among the most enlightened statesmen and liberal philanthropists. By the organization of Joint Stock Homestead Associations, and the purchase of large and eligibly located tracts of land, every member of the community may become a landholder at a comparatively trifling cost. By the payment of a small sum into the capital stock, and a comparatively trifling amount in stated assessments, every one may, through this medium, which is available to all, in a short time become the possessor of an unincumbered site for a homestead. The healthy and advantageous effect of this system is apparent in the number of elegant and comfortable residences which have sprung up, as if by magic, in the vicinity of the city in all directions within the past year.

For a complete list of the Homestead Associations organized and existing in this city, with the amounts of their capital stock, the dates of their incorporation, names of trustees, with their operations and progress, see Protective Associations, page 678.

Savings Banks.

One of the most healthy and beneficial institutions of a large city is the Savings Bank, which is emphatically a monetary agent of the people. By receiving on deposit at a remunerative rate of interest, sums, no matter how small, and which would otherwise too often be heedlessly squandered, habits of economy and thrift are inculcated, which are productive of the most beneficial results to the entire community. By constant additions, sums insignificant at the outset are gradually swelled to an amount of which the depositors themselves had no definite idea until they gave these institutions a trial, and fully and satisfactorily tested the experiment. The loans made by these institutions are generally secured by bond and mortgage, and upon terms mutually advantageous to all parties. By requiring with the payment of the interest due each month, a sum equivalent to a monthly installment of the original loan, at the time fixed for its maturity, the debt has been entirely extinguished. There are six of these institutions, with an aggregate amount of assets nearly $15,000,000, conducted upon the same principle, in successful operation in the City of San Francisco, the beneficial effects of which are felt and acknowledged by the community at large. The first of these organized on this coast is the

SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY.

Incorporated July 23d, 1857. Office, 619 Clay. The amount to the credit of the members of the society is $3,007,179 75. The management of the Savings and Loan Society reflects high credit upon those who have it in charge, and its advantage to the masses can scarcely be estimated. By its means and under the admirable system devised, depositors are made perfectly secure, thrift is encouraged by accumulations of interest, small capitals are aggregated, and enterprise stimulated by the facilities thus provided. The savings of the laborer thus invested, also aid in producing a general prosperity in which he is himself a sharer, and doubtless it is a conviction of these truths, with confidence in the fidelity of those in charge, which have obtained for this society the unparalleled success of which we have spoken.

HIBERNIA SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY.

Incorporated April 12th, 1859. Office, northeast corner Montgomery and Market Streets. This association was formed for the mutual benefit of the members, who through it are enabled to find secure and profitable investment for small savings, and on the other hand have an opportunity of obtaining from it at reasonable rates the use of a moderate capital, upon giving good and sufficient security for the same. The affairs of this association have been managed with the utmost prudence and economy, and its business has been gradually increasing. Its success and healthy condition reflect the highest credit upon the management of the concern. Total assets, $6,681,955.

SAN FRANCISCO SAVINGS UNION.

The Legislature having passed an Act on the 11th of April, 1862, framed with a special view to the formation of savings societies, a few gentlemen of well-known character and standing in this community took advantage of it to incorporate themselves under the above name. To depositors it offers the security of a guarantee capital of $100,000, to be increased as the business increases by a reserve fund of equal amount, which bears all losses, and neither of which can be withdrawn under any circumstances until every dollar deposited has been repaid to the depositors; in compensation for this guarantee, the stockholders receive a fair share of the net profits, and it is from this share, not from the profits of depositors, that the reserve fund is formed. As, with ordinary prudence, it is all but impossible that the losses should ever amount to $200,000, and as the losses have to be borne by the guarantee capital and reserve fund before they can touch deposits, the latter may be considered as perfectly secure. No dividend is allowed for the first month, as some time is required to find investment for the funds, but after that they are calculated without deduction for broken months, short time, etc., so that their real value is higher than it appears to be. It is a material relief to married women and minors, especially to the former, that when they make deposits in this institution in their own name, they can draw them without the necessity of obtaining the consent of their husbands or guardians. To borrowers it offers the facility of repayment by easy installments, spread over from twelve to forty-eight months, (the law allows six years) according to the circumstances of the case. To men of small means seeking to obtain a home-stead, experience has shown this facility to be invaluable. The report of July 3d, 1867, shows the result of the first five years' operations to be—deposits, $1,312,313.05; guarantee capital paid in, reserve fund, and surplus profits, $97,482.91; total, $1,409,795.96. Of this amount there was invested in loans made, $1,259,257.94; on hand, $109,643.86, balance in stamps on hand and furniture. Profits of the half year, (net) $71,157.70.

CALIFORNIA BUILDING AND SAVINGS BANK.

Incorporated, 1861. Capital and assets, $1,000,000. The operations of this association for the past few years have placed it alongside of the leading similar institutions in this city. Its affairs have been conducted economically, and by its means many citizens have been enabled to secure permanent homes, thereby adding value to the real estate of the city. Office, 405 California Street. Thomas Mooney, President.

FRENCH MUTUAL PROVIDENT SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY.

This institution was organized February 12th, 1860, and the same general remarks which we have made in reference to the other societies apply to this one. The names of its officers, which we subjoin, afford a sufficient guarantee that the affairs of this society will be faithfully administered. Deposits and sinking fund, $1,822,554.13. Office, 533 Commercial Street.

Officers—G. Dronaillet, President; C. Martin, Treasurer; G. Mahé, Director.

FARMERS' AND MECHANICS' BANK OF SAVINGS.

This institution, with a capital of $150,000, has recently commenced operations in this city. The gentlemen to whose care its business is confided is a sufficient guarantee of its permanence and success. Office, 225 Sanson Street.

Officers—N. C. Fassett, President; G. H. Wheeler, Cashier.

Banking Houses.

One of the most notable elements of our prosperity as a City and State, is the consolidating of immense capital under our Banking Law, and the establishment of branch offices in this city of foreign banks and capitalists. Of the former, the Bank of California, corner of California and Sanson Streets, stands first. The capital is $5,000,000. D. O. Mills, President; W. C. Ralston, Cashier.... The Pacific Bank, No. 404 Montgomery street, with a capital of $5,000,000, is another prominent house, embracing in its list of Directors some of our wealthiest citizens. Of the foreign houses, we may mention the London and San Francisco Bank, (limited) with a capital of $5,000,000; Milton S. Latham, Manager; office, 412 Montgomery Street.... The Bank of British Columbia, with a capital of $1,250,000, with power to increase to $10,000,000; W. H. Tillinghast, Manager; office, S. E. corner California and Sanson.... Bank of British North America, Grain & Sutherland, Agents, office, 411 California street.... A number of other institutions, founded on a solid basis, might be mentioned, did space permit. Suffice it to say, that such large sums of money on deposit here for commercial and other uses, is a sufficient evidence of our future prospects and stability.

Insurance Companies.

Within the past year several important institutions of this character have gone into successful operation, while those of an older date have largely increased their business. This is an important feature of our domestic policy; and the establishment and successful conduct of home insurance companies exhibit a healthy condition of public contentment, and a feeling of security on the part of our citizens with regard to fire and marine risks. The following is a list of the local institutions of this character in successful operation here, the character of whose officers and managers is a sufficient guarantee of their soundness and reliability in all respects:

PACIFIC INSURANCE COMPANY.

This company, which was organized July 14th, 1863, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, (coin) insures against loss or damage by fire or risks at sea. The Board of Directors is composed of the best known and reliable business men and capitalists of the Pacific coast, and the stockholders represent a larger amount of capital than almost any other company on the continent. The capital is all paid up in gold coin, and, recognizing in its fullest extent the law of individual liability, this company offers the best possible guarantee to the insured, and establishes an institution in this important department of which every citizen taking any interest in the welfare and prosperity of Pacific institutions may feel a just pride.

Officers—Jonathan Hunt, President; A. J. Ralston, Secretary. Office, 422 California Street.

SAN FRANCISCO INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated March, 1861. Capital, $300,000. Officers—George C. Boardman, President; C. D. O'Sullivan, Vice President; P. McShane, Secretary. The capital of this company is now over $300,000, all paid in gold and well secured on the best collaterals, and its careful management has made it one of the most reliable offices on the Pacific coast, bringing with it the reward of a constantly increasing business. Office, No. 432 Montgomery Street, in Donohoe, Kelly & Co.'s Bank Building.

HOME MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

The above company was organized in September, 1864, with a capital of $1,000,000—amount paid in $350,000—and is prepared to issue fire, life and marine policies of insurance upon all insurable property, lives, etc. There are five committees—one on Finance and Loans, one on Insurance, one on Claims and Losses, one Auditing, and one Executive. The Directors are selected from nearly all branches of trade, the industrial classes being particularly well represented. A company of this kind is destined to win its way to public favor, and its business soon placed upon an unshaken foundation. The office is at No. 410 California Street.

Officers—Geo. S. Mann, President; William H. Stevens, Secretary; A. R. Gunnison, General Agent.

FIREMAN'S FUND INSURANCE COMPANY.

Organized May 1st, 1863; capital, $500,000, fully paid in gold coin. Having become established on a firm basis, the company solicits a share of public patronage, and guarantees that all its losses shall be paid in United States gold coin. Office, S. W. corner Sanson and California. Both fire and marine risks are included in their business.

Officers—D. J. Staples, President; C. R. Bond, Secretary.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated April, 1865; capital paid up, $750,000 (coin). This company, although recently organized, has attained a position equal to any of the home companies. Its affairs are managed with energetic ability, and from the well-known character of its officers, the amplest security is offered to those who desire the protection of the company. The California Lloyds has been recently merged in this company, and marine risks are now included in their business.

Officers—Gnstave Touchard, President; Charles D. Haven, Secretary; George T. Bohen, Surveyor. Office, 416 California Street.

OCCIDENTAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated January, 1865; capital, $300,000. This company has been but a short time in existence, and it has already accumulated a large amount of business. The Directors comprise some of our most active and responsible business men, which cannot fail to secure for its future a reputation for promptness and liberality.

Officers—Chr. Christiansen, President; John W. Haynes, Surveyor; B. Rothschild, Secretary. Office, southwest corner California and Montgomery Streets.

MERCHANTS' MUTUAL MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Organized April 2d, 1863; capital, $500,000. This company, engaged exclusively in marine insurance, may be considered in successful and vigorous operation. It offers to the business community a local institution conducted on liberal principles, prompt and energetic in its administration, and offering in its list of stockholders, composed of many of our most reliable merchants, the amplest security to its customers. Its business is conducted entirely on a gold basis, and all losses are paid promptly in United States gold coin.

Officers—C. L. Taylor, President; J. Howes, Vice President; J. B. Scotchler, Secretary. Office, 406 California Street.

CALIFORNIA INSURANCE COMPANY.

This company was incorporated February, 1861, with a subscribed capital of $200,000, divided into twenty shares of $10,000 each. It is the pioneer of all the insurance corporations in our city, and the gentlemen owning its stock were the first who had the courage to assume the personal liabilities imposed by our State Constitution on stockholders, in a business supposed to be preëminently hazardous. For the mutual protection of each other and of the insured, with reference to this liability, unusual care was taken to admit only such stockholders as were of undoubted responsibility; and to prevent sales of stock to irresponsible parties, all the receipts of the company, less taxes, expenses, and losses, are retained on hand, and no dividend can be declared until the entire original capital has been earned from the proceeds of the business. The company has thus far prospered. Its officers are well known and experienced underwriters, and they have won for the office a character for prudence in taking risks and liberality in paying losses. Owing to the substantial character of its stockholders, the peculiarities of our State laws, and of the by-laws of the company, the California Mutual is probably the strongest marine office in the United States; for not only are its capital and accumulations subject to the claims of creditors and the control of State officers, but after these are exhausted the stockholders remain personally liable for the excess in the same manner as if they had each signed the policy on the plan of the Lloyds of London.

The company divides ten per cent. of its profits on open policies, among the holders of such policies, on the second Monday of January in each year, in lieu of the scrip returns of Eastern marine companies. All its transactions are made only in gold coin. Office, 318 California Street. C. T. Hopkins, President; H. B. Tichenor, Vice President; Z. Crowell, Secretary.

NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

This company, which was organized December 29, 1865, with a capital of $1,000,000, fully paid up, has already secured a considerable amount of business both in fire and marine risks. The Board of Directors includes many of our leading business men, and the reputation of the officers in charge of its affairs must command a fair share of the insurance risks of the City and State.

Officers—George W. Beaver, President; W. W. Wiggins, Secretary; Amos Noyes, Marine Officer; Erastus N. Torrey, Surveyor.

BUILDERS' INSURANCE COMPANY.

Organized 1866. Capital, $50,000, including assets, $90,000. This company has been in operation only ten months, and has secured already a considerable amount of the fire and marine risks of the city and State. The Board of Directors are competent and responsible, and the officers in charge of its affairs exhibit an amount of energy and tact that must insure for the company a continuance of its present prosperity.

Officers—Thomas Mooney, President; H. Herbert, Secretary; John Fowler, Actuary.

Libraries.

It may be set down as a fixed fact that there is no surer indication of the progression and prosperity of a community than the number and condition of its libraries. In this department San Francisco may safely challenge competition with any city of its age in the range of civilization. The Public Libraries are numerous and respectable, and notwithstanding the activity and energy exhibited by her citizens in every department of life, the statistics of these institutions prove beyond controversy that they are at the same time essentially a reading people. Not physical alone, but mental activity is a prominent characteristic of our population.

In addition to these libraries, several of the hotels of the city are provided with large and well selected collections of books for the use of guests. That belonging to the What Cheer House numbers about 6,000 volumes of well selected works, connected with which is an extensive cabinet of specimens in natural history, and a large number of paintings, with a marble bust by Powers, copied by that artist from his statue of California, and a fancy head in marble by Gault, an eminent sculptor, which works of art, selected by the proprietor, Mr. Woodward, during his tour in Europe, reflect credit upon his taste and liberality.

Want of space prevents a reference in detail to the numerous public libraries in this city, prominent among which may be named the Mercantile Library Association, containing 24,000 volumes; Odd Fellows', 17,000; Mechanics' Institute, 10,000; Young Men's Christian Association, 4,000; California Pioneers, 2,500; San Francisco Verein, 4,000.

The Masonic Fraternity have made arrangements for the foundation of a library in this city. From the well-known character of those who have the enterprise in charge, it must soon take rank with the leading library institutions in the State. For list of officers, etc., of the different literary institutions in the city, see page 683.

Water Companies.

SPRING VALLEY WATER WORKS.

Capital stock, $6,000,000, in 60,000 shares of $100 each.

Officers—Charles Mayne, President; Henry Wattson, Secretary; Lloyd Tevis, Charles Mayne, John Parrott, N. G. Kittle, W. F. Babcock, George F. Hooper, and James D. Walker, Trustees.

The present organization is formed by a consolidation of the San Francisco City and Spring Valley Water Works companies, which took place on the first of January, 1865.

The San Francisco Water Works Company filed its certificate of incorporation on the nineteenth day of June, 1857, and on the twenty-seventh day of September of the year following introduced the water of Lobos Creek into the lower portion of the city, and in January, 1860, the permanent works were completed for the supply of the entire city with water. The Spring Valley Company was incorporated in June, 1858, and in July, 1861, the water from Islais Creek was introduced into the city.

The present works receive their supply from two sources—Lobos and Pillaritos creeks. Lobos Creek is a stream of pure, fresh water, emptying into the bay near Point Lobos, which supplies two millions of gallons daily. The distance of the stream is three and a half miles in a direct line from the Plaza. The receiving reservoir, with a capacity of 800,000 gallons, is located at Black Point, on the bay, from which the water is elevated by four double-acting pumps, with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons daily, propelled by two steam engines of two hundred and fifty-horse power each, to the distributing reservoirs on the adjacent hills, the highest being three hundred and fifteen feet above high-water mark, located at the corner of Hyde and Greenwich streets; the second, which is situated immediately below, at the intersection of Hyde and Francisco streets, is one hundred and forty-five feet above high-water mark. The capacity of the first is 5,000,000 gallons, and that of the lower 8,000,000.

Pillaritos Creek is situated in the coast range of mountains, distant from San Francisco about fifteen miles in a southerly direction. The water is taken at an elevation of seven hundred feet above the level of the sea, through the main coast range by means of a tunnel 1,600 feet in length. A large dam is now constructed on the Pillaritos Valley below the tunnel, which dam is seventy-eight feet in height and two hundred and twenty-eight feet between the abutments. This will cause the water to cover ninety-two acres of land, and makes a reservoir that will contain 900,000,000 gallons, which will be filled during the winter season of the year, and be drawn from as required in the city reservoirs, making this the great retaining reservoir. From the east end of the tunnel the water is conducted around the hills into another large reservoir—Lake Honda, back of the Mission Dolores—by a flume eighteen by thirty inches, with a grade of seven feet to the mile, being thirty-two miles in length. Of this distance six miles are laid of iron pipe, and when the flumes are to be replaced, it will probably be done by iron pipe, of which about fourteen miles would be required to make the entire route of iron. Lake Honda is a fine natural reservoir, three hundred and seventy feet above the sea, with a capacity of 52,000,000 gallons, from which place the water is brought to another distributing reservoir, corner of Buchanan and Market Streets, by means of sixteen and twelve-inch cast iron mains. The Market Street Reservoir is constructed on a high hill, two hundred feet above the sea, and is made of brick and cement; capacity, 1,750,000 gallons. This is the main distributing reservoir, and supplies four-fifths of the city. The upper part of the city is supplied direct from Lake Honda pressure, which will give a good pressure to almost every section of the city. As to the quality of the water, it is now over five years since it was first introduced, and has been carried to every quarter of the world, and given the greatest satisfaction to all who have used it. The Brannan Street Reservoir, also used by the company, has a capacity of 500,000 gallons.

The main dam above mentioned is completed. The company has also completed a tunnel under the mountain separating the San Mateo from the San Andreas Valley, which will be 3,350 feet long—it will save nearly eight miles of the present flume—reducing the main line of conduit from thirty-two to twenty-four miles in length. This twenty-four miles will eventually be reduced to about eighteen miles—as proved by recent surveys. The company is now at work substituting thirty-inch sheet iron pipe for the flume.

The amount of pipe now laid in the city proper, reaches seventy-eight miles.

SAN MATEO WATER COMPANY.

Incorporated September, 1866. Capital, $1,000,000. The object of this company is to supply the City and County of San Francisco, and the several towns along the San Mateo Valley contiguous to the railroad, with pure mountain water. The sources of supply, which are situated about thirty-five miles from San Francisco, are several streams on the east side of the mountains in San Mateo County.

Manufactures.

The geographical position of California, on the shores of the Pacific, insures her a vast market for her manufactures, while the peculiar location of San Francisco, as the only port of importance on the long line of coast extending from the Gulf of California to Puget Sound, a distance of over two thousand miles, points out her destiny as the great commercial and manufacturing city on the western shores of the continent. The Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, the great natural highways of communication with the plains of the interior of the State, also assist largely in this result, while the peculiarity of the local climate, by its equable temperature, (being neither extremely hot nor cold at any season of the year) is without a rival in manufacturing advantages elsewhere. These, as before said, point out, in advance, San Francisco's destiny as a great commercial and manufacturing emporium, possessing natural advantages, which combined with the energy of an enterprising people, promise soon to make her eminent among the cities of the civilized world. Incorporated less than eighteen years ago, and considering the high rates of skilled labor and interest on money, San Francisco has made the most remarkable progress in useful arts and manufactures of any city known, and her future promises a still more rapid development than has occurred in the past.

During the last year quite a number of important branches of manufactures have been successfully inaugurated in this city, while others have been projected and are in course of completion, the aggregate of both being a great advance on any previous year of her history. Among the most prominent of the branches of industry put in operation are the Pacific Woolen Mills, located at the Mission, manufacturing knit goods of all descriptions at the rate of half a million dollars annually, and employing nearly four hundred persons. The Golden City Chemical Works, with a capital of $2,000,000, and manufacturing a great variety of chemicals and medicinal extracts. The San Francisco Glass Works, manufacturing both white and colored glassware to the extent of $150,000 a year, and the San Francisco Linseed Oil and Paint Works, with capacity to supply the entire wants of the coast. These, with minor enterprises inaugurated during the same period, have absorbed more than $3,000,000 capital, and will turn out manufactures to half that amount annually. The most prominent of the enterprises yet unfinished is the Pacific Rolling Mills, which promises to be in successful operation within the next twelve months. This establishment is much needed, both to do away with the importation of a vast amount of manufactured metals and to stimulate new branches of labor by furnishing supplies of home materials which are required to make them successful. The large capital of these mills and their contemplated extensive scope of manufacture in copper as well as iron, promises to do more to develop the natural resources of the State in these metals than all similar enterprises now in operation combined.

The pecuniary results of all the manufacturing interests in this city during the past year are reported quite favorable to parties investing in them. In a few branches the results have been unsatisfactory; sugar and petroleum refineries and the foundry business being those most complained of as not being as favorable, in a pecuniary point of view, as was the case in preceding years. On the other hand several branches of manufacture have been unusually active, those of woolen goods in particular, the mills running to their full capacity nearly the entire year. Both the Mission and Pioneer Woolen Mills have had their buildings and machinery largely increased during the period named, and at present have from a-third to a-half more machinery and facilities to manufacture than was the case a year since. Taken as a whole, the past year may be considered as a very satisfactory one in its pecuniary results to manufacturers and the public at large, while the success in different branches has been most beneficial in giving employment to operatives and laborers to a larger extent than before known.

WOOLEN MANUFACTORIES.—The woolen manufactures of this city are the most extensive and valuable of their kind on the Pacific coast. The two manufactures, the Pioneer and Mission Woolen Mills, produce a variety of goods especially suited to the wants of our mining and agricultural population—which have a reputation for excellence of wearing qualities and fineness of fabric not enjoyed by any similar goods imported. The quantity of goods manufactured at these establishments during the year ending June 30th, 1866, returned to the Internal Revenue Department of this District, amounted to $899,734. It is proper in connection with the subject of these manufactures to state that the demand for material created by them and competition for desirable grades of wool has largely stimulated the improvement of the breeds of sheep, and raised the value of the entire crop since their establishment on an average fully three cents per pound. Taking the clips of the last six years, which have been thus affected, these woolen manufacturing enterprises have enriched the wool growers of this State and Oregon from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000, which they would not have received if they had had to depend on export buyers for a market.

The first manufactory in this important branch of industry on this portion of the Pacific coast was commenced in 1858 by Messrs. Heyneman, Pick & Co., an enterprising San Francisco mercantile firm. Erecting spacious and suitable buildings for the purpose at Black Point on the Bay, they imported all the requisite improved machinery and engaged competent workmen from Eastern establishments to perform the work. Although the breeds of sheep had not then been improved as they are at present by the introduction of the finer woolled varieties from abroad, the supply of the ordinary stock for the manufacture was abundant. At first the manufacture was confined to blankets and flannels of various grades, but as the quality of the wool improved and inducements offered, a great variety of cloths, cassimeres, tweeds and cloakings were made that have met with a ready sale at satisfactory prices. In the fall of 1861 the entire establishment was unfortunately burned, but in the course of a few months another building superior to that destroyed was fully completed and filled with machinery, and under the direction of a joint stock company with a capital of $300,000, resumed operations. Since then additional buildings have been erected and machinery introduced, until at the present time, the establishment keeps 350 hands constantly employed, runs 18 sets cards, 8 mules and 14 jacks, 72 looms and 6,000 spindles, all driven by a 150-horse power engine. During the year ending December 31, 1866, these mills manufactured 30,000 pairs blankets, 60,000 yards broad-cloths, tweeds and cassimeres, and 375,000 yards flannels, which consumed 1,500,000 pounds of choice wool. To these mills was awarded the Mechanics' Institute Medal, at the Fair in September, 1865. A very large portion of the flannels manufactured is made up at once into shirts, the company employing some 60 sewing machines in that and other work connected with their manufactures.

The Mission Woolen Mills were established by the individual exertions of Donald McLennan, an enterprising manufacturer from the East, in connection with Mr. Lazard, the head of a leading mercantile house in San Francisco, in 1861. The location of the mills on Folsom Street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth Streets, in close proximity to Mission Creek and the Bay, is peculiarly adapted to the purpose. The main works are contained in an L-shaped wooden building three stories high on Folsom Street, while a stone, two storied fire-proof warehouse, for storing wool, with wooden dye-finishing, and engine houses and Chinese quarters, occupy a considerable portion of the 10 acres of land belonging to the company. Since its inauguration the concern has been merged into a joint stock corporation with a capital of $500,000, of which Mr. McLennan, the original projector of the enterprise, is the President, and who superintends the operations of the manufactory in person. The goods manufactured by these mills, consisting of blankets, heavy army and navy and other cloths, cassimeres, tweeds, cloakings, flannels and traveling shawls, bear a high reputation both at home and abroad, fairly competing with the best foreign fabrics. During the war the manufactures of these mills were largely used to fill contracts for army clothing, and bore away the palm on account of the superior quality of the material and excellent wearing properties. A large portion of the State Militia have also been supplied with clothing from these mills, as well as the Spanish and Russian fleets when visiting the port some years since. In common with the manufactures of the other mills, their blankets and flannels have almost driven imported goods out of this market. The demand for their manufactures has been so great that the mills have been run night and day almost since the time of their erection. In order that California manufactures might be properly represented at the World's Fair at Paris, the enterprising proprietors of the Mission Mills forwarded for exhibition, specimens of the various styles of goods manufactured by them. By telegraph dispatch overland we have since learned that the medal for blankets and flannels on exhibition at Paris, was awarded to the manufactures of these mills. During their running they have produced a greater variety of woolen manufactures than any other establishment, their only public exhibit at the Fair of the Mechanics' Institute in this city, in 1864, being the finest and most varied ever shown on this coast. Among other goods then shown were two pieces of first class three-ply carpet made by them, which were the first and only goods of their kind ever manufactured in the Pacific States. During the last six months the main building of the mills has been much enlarged by the extension of upper and lower stories, which now has a frontage on Folsom Street of 362 feet. The Mission Mills, in 1866, constantly employed 425 hands, using two engines of the aggregate of 150-horse power, driving 11 sets cards, 6 mules and 13 jacks, 50 looms and 5,000 spindles. During the same time they manufactured 80,000 pairs blankets, 125,000 yards broad-cloths, tweeds and cassimeres, and 500,000 yards flannels and cloakings, besides a quantity of shawls, the whole consuming 2,000,000 pounds of wool.

KNIT WOOLEN GOODS.—The only manufactory of knit woolen goods on this coast is that of the Pacific Woolen Mills of this city. These are located on Folsom, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth Streets, and occupy about two acres of ground. The main building is of brick, three and a half stories high, 116 feet long by 60 feet wide, with a one-story brick engine and boiler rooms, and blacksmith shops adjoining. Though completed in 1866, the machinery of these mills was not actively employed until June, 1867, when the manufacture of a variety of qualities of knit undershirts, drawers, hose and half hose was engaged in. The machinery, which is of the latest and most improved kinds, intended to economize human labor, consists of 4 sets wool cards, 1 mammoth or double set cards, and 2 self-cleaning cotton cards, (the last two kinds being the only ones of their style on this coast) 4 mules, 1,800 spindles, 6 shirt, 4 drawers, 15 single and 2 compound (equal to 12 single each) stockings, and 3 sets winding machines, all being driven by a 100-horse power engine, with fly wheel of 16 feet diameter and weighing 9 tons. The works are run 11 hours per day at present, and manufacture 100 dozen hose and half-hose, and 50 dozen shirts and drawers daily. The working force consists of 24 women and girls, 21 white men and 42 Chinese employed in the buildings, and between 250 and 300 women and girls who do piece work at their own homes. Additional sets of improved cards are now on their way from the Atlantic States and Europe, which, with still finer knitting machinery than is now in use, will probably be set up and running by the first of October next. Although the manufacture of the very finest goods has not as yet been engaged in, still the varieties already made are in many respects superior to the same grades of goods imported. When the mill is fully supplied with machinery, it is intended to manufacture as fine grades of goods as the best that are imported, which it is believed can be done at prices that will monopolize this market to the exclusion of foreign manufactures. The originator of this valuable enterprise is James Roberts, for six years past Superintendent of the Mission Woolen Mills. The capital stock of the Pacific Woolen Mills is $400,000. The works are under the management of James Roberts, while Thomas Stapleton (late from the Atlantic States) is Superintendent, and Lazard Frères, of this city, are agents. The manufacture of knit goods requires the finest quality of wool, of which over 500,000 pounds has been secured this season for the purpose.

A small manufactory for knit goods, belonging to Messrs. Sharp & Goldstein, was put in operation, at the corner of Turk and Pierce Streets, in August, 1866. The mill run for several months, but was totally destroyed by fire before any large amount of goods was manufactured. So far as we can learn, no steps have been taken to rebuild it, and it can now be properly considered an abandoned enterprise.

COTTON WADDING.—Mills for the manufacture of cotton wadding, batting, etc., combining all the later improvements in this department, including recent patents, were erected by I. C. Mayer & Son, the present proprietors, on the south side of Turk, between Scott and Pierce Streets, in this city. Wadding is made single or double glazed, and of any desired weight to suit the requirement of the market, and batting can also be furnished to order, either for the use of tailors and other manufacturers, or for surgical purposes. About 25 bales, or 1,000 pounds of wadding, and the same of batting, can be made each day. The workmen, about 30 in number, who are engaged for a term of years, and reside on the premises, are from some of the leading Eastern manufactories. The cotton used is mainly imported from Tahiti and Mexican ports. The office of these mills is at 224 Sanson Street, over the Bank of British Columbia.

CORDAGE.—The only establishment in this department is the Pacific Cordage Manufactory, located at the Potrero, and owned by Messrs. Tabbs & Co. It was established in 1856, since which time it has been in successful operation, there being a constant demand for the articles produced. During the past year the works have been much enlarged with additions of new machinery, so that the largest sized hawsers can be manufactured as well as ordinary cordage. At the present time it has a manufacturing capacity of 3,500,000 pounds hemp, and during the year 1866 has turned out 2,000,000 pounds cordage, equal in quality to the best imported. The rope-walk is 1,500 feet long, and the building comprising the spinning machinery 100 feet long by 40 feet in width. The machinery is driven by a steam engine of 150-horse power, and the works employ 47 men constantly.

ASSAYING ESTABLISHMENTS.—There are several extensive establishments for the refining of gold and silver located in this city. The works of the San Francisco Assaying and Refining Co., on Brannan St., and the Pacific Gold and Silver Refinery, located near the Mission Dolores, occupy a prominent position. Messrs. Hentsch & Berton, G. E. Rogers, Riehn, Hemme & Co., are also engaged in the same business, and produce, in the aggregate, a large amount of bullion annually.

CHEMICALS.—The large amount of precious metals refined, combined with the difficulties attending the importation of the various chemicals used, and high freight on extra hazardous material, caused the erection of the San Francisco Chemical Works, for the manufacture of acids, at an early day. From these works the principal gold and silver refineries, and the United States Branch Mint, received their supplies of acid up to the commencement of the present year, when the Golden City Chemical Works went into operation and competed for the trade. The San Francisco Chemical Works, during the year 1866, employed six men, used 250 tons nitrate of soda, (imported from Iquiqui, Peru) 200 tons sulphur, and made 400 tons sulphuric and nitric acids, the capacity of the works being equal to the manufacture of 900 tons acids per annum. The Golden City Chemical Works are of very large capacity, but have not as yet been worked to their full extent.

The Pacific Chemical Works commenced operations within the last year on Sixteenth Street, between Folsom and Harrison Streets. They have furnaces, evaporating baths and chemical apparatus complete for the manufacture of drugs, medicines, etc., to meet the demands of the druggists, physicians and commercial community. The laboratory is one of the most complete on the Pacific coast, and the proprietors, Messrs. Falkenau & Hanks, have found such extensive patronage as to necessitate a large increase of their manufacturing facilities, to meet the wants of the trade.

Crane & Brigham, extensive dealers in drugs, have during the past year established chemical works at Hunter's Point, near South San Francisco. At present they confine their attention to manufacturing sulphate of copper, (blue vitriol) of which some 500 tons are used annually by our farmers for preserving their wheat crop from smut. The quality of the sulphate of copper made by this firm is unexceptionable, it being made from low grade copper ores, of great strength, and free from metallic and other adulterations, which are quite common in the imported article. Kellogg, Hewston & Co., the predecessors of the Golden City Chemical Works, also made sulphate of copper at their refining works during the past year, they then marketing 120 tons of excellent quality.

OIL WORKS.—The only oil refining works in the State are the Phoenix Oil Works, located on Front Street near Jackson, and owned by C. H. Harrison. The oils used are sperm and whale, of which 60,000 gallons were refined in 1866. The capacity of the works is equal to 400 gallons per day, and employs three men constantly.

GLASS CUTTING.—The only glass cutting works in this city are those of John Mallon & Co., located on Beale near Market Streets. All kinds of glass cutting are done in the best style of the art. The works employ two men besides the proprietors, and manufactured $6,000 worth in 1866.

SAW TEETH.—Patent saw teeth manufactory of N. W. Spaulding, on Pine Street. These teeth, used in circular saws, are a California invention, and have a very high reputation among the millmen along the Pacific coast. They are now in use at different mills from Central America to British Columbia. During 1866, there were employed 9 men, using 12 tons of steel, and turning out work valued at $12,500.

SAWS.—The only manufactory for saws on the Pacific coast was established in this city in September, 1866. The works are located on Pine Street, and are owned by the Pacific Saw Manufacturing Co. All kinds of saws are made from plate-steel, which is imported from Great Britain in sheets and discs, the same as is the case in the Atlantic States. It is expected that in a few years the new process for manufacturing steel will be introduced by the Pacific Rolling Mills, now in course of construction, in which case sheet steel of domestic production will take the place of the imported article in saw making. In the Pacific Saw Works, all the processes of cutting, tempering, hammering, and polishing are gone through with in regular order; the work produced being fully equal in quality to the best imported. The improved furnace for tempering long saws, by which a great saving of labor is effected, originated in this establishment. The works employed 8 men and 1 boy during 1866; were run by steam power, and turned out manufactures valued at $3,059.47. Like many other branches of industry lately introduced, the establishment of these works has given value to old or damaged work, as the material which in many cases can be worked over was hitherto comparatively worthless.

GLUE AND NEATSFOOT OIL.—The only glue and neatsfoot oil works on the coast are those of G. S. Dana, located near the Lagoon in this city. During 1866 they turned out 33,997 pounds first quality glue, and 5007 gallons neatsfoot oil, employing ten persons. The most of the glue and a large proportion of the oil is shipped to the Atlantic States for a market. The works have a capacity to manufacture daily about ten barrels glue, and two hundred gallons neatsfoot oil.

MIRRORS.—The process of silvering glass was first commenced in San Francisco in 1863, by Messrs. Cameron, Whittier & Co. Their works (the only ones on the Pacific coast) are located at the corner of Front and Pine Streets, where the largest mirrors are made on French plate glass. The value of this branch is very great, as the sea air on voyages from the Atlantic States and Europe to this port injures the lustre of mirrors, in most cases, and often destroys them. This damage was of so extensive a nature as to make the importing of mirrors both hazardous and expensive, while there were no means of renewing those damaged or of re-silvering old plates that had been in use. The works commenced in 1863, with one silvering table and one workman, but the process produced such superior mirrors to those imported that it has gradually usurped the market to the exclusion of importations, so that three silvering tables and four workmen are constantly employed, who turned out new work to the value of about $18,000 in 1866. The tables, etc., are of the best patterns used, and the firm have manufactured mirrors 110 inches by 144 inches, which are the largest to be found in this State. The materials used, with exception of the quicksilver, are all imported, the glass used coming from France and Germany, (mostly from the former country) and the tin foil from Great Britain.

PIANO FORTES.—There is but one manufactory for pianos on the Pacific coast. This is located on Ninth Street, between Folsom and Howard Streets, and is owned by Jacob Zech. There are, however, quite a number of establishments where pianos can be repaired, one or more which have in previous years made instruments which have been exhibited at the various Fairs of the Mechanics' Institute in this city, and compared well, both in tone and finish, with the best imported. The cheapness of labor and materials in the Atlantic States and Europe has had an injurious effect on this branch of home industry, so that at the present time Jacob Zech (who was the pioneer maker) is the only firm manufacturing pianos. The pianos made by Mr. Zech have a high reputation among professional musicians, two grand pianos made by him a few years since having been pronounced by competent judges as being equal, if not superior, to those of other makers then in California. During 1866 Mr. Zech employed two workmen, and made twelve pianos of an average value of about $450 each. In the construction of these instruments many of the native woods of this region, ash, laurel, and other varieties, have been used with good effect.

ORGANS.—The only organ manufactory is that of John Mayer, located on Page, near Octavia Street. The instruments made by this maker have a good reputation for power and sweetness of tone. Two workmen were employed and two large organs made during 1866.

GLASS.—The manufacture of glass during the year 1866 amounted to about $80,000 in value, the two glass works which are located in this city being in active operation for only eight months of the time. The Pioneer Glass Works on the Pacific coast, were erected at the Potrero by the Pacific Glass Company, which was incorporated in 1862; the buildings were erected on a ten acre lot of land belonging to the company; the first glass blowing taking place on the 16th of June, 1863. The works were built with especial reference to making green and black glassware, for which the wine, liquor, soda water and other trades created a large demand. They consist of a substantial brick building, in which is located the furnace and tempering ovens, and a number of frame buildings in which materials are stored, and pot making and other preparatory work done. Between forty and fifty men and boys are employed in the works, which contain a furnace with five open pots, and when run at its full capacity, turn out about $6,000 worth of glass per month. The great increase of the native wine trade promises to soon make a vast demand for bottles to supply, which will probably require enlarged manufacturing facilities. The works are at present run by Messrs. Saulsbury, Kirk and Mordecai, who have leased them of the company. The San Francisco Glass Works, owned by Messrs. Newman & Brannan, are located on Townsend Street, between Third and Fourth Streets. The works consist of a frame building, containing an eight-pot furnace, and are adapted to the manufacture of all variety of white, green or black glass; the pot though covered for the manufacture of white glass, yet, being by an ingenious invention, patented by Mr. Newman, suitable for making all colored glass economically. They employ forty men and boys, who turn out about $6,000 worth of glass per month. All kinds of white glass, such as druggist ware, chemists' retorts, lamps, chimneys, tubes, etc., are made as well as carboys, demijohns, wine, soda water, and other black and green glass. The variety made at these works is almost endless; it comprising all kinds of white glass, except crystal ware, that have hitherto been imported from the Atlantic States and Europe. Their ability in this respect has proved most valuable; several instances having already occurred, whereby the domestic manufacture of large retorts, syphons, tubes, etc., the chemical works, and the United States Mint in this city, have avoided long delays and the heavy expenses and damage attending the importations of the articles from Europe. Although white glass has been made for about a year past, the domestic manufacture is fast driving importations out of the market; it being found cheaper to manufacture than import with the attendant risk of loss and breakage by sea voyage. The white sand used for the finer quality of glass made at these establishments, is found in large quantities in Monterey County; the next quality comes from Oakland, across the Bay; whilst that for the common or ordinary quality, is found in immense quantities in the hills of San Francisco. The manganese used for coloring, is obtained from Red Rock in the Bay, about ten miles from this city; it being prepared from an ore of better quality, and at a cheaper rate than it can be imported. The soda ash used is all imported, but attempts are now being made to prepare a substitute from salt cake, the refuse of nitrate of soda from the chemical works. This process, if successful, will be more economical, and will also benefit the chemical works, whose managers have been at expense to rid themselves of a hitherto useless and cumbersome article.

IRON FOUNDRIES AND BOILER SHOPS.—The iron foundries of San Francisco are among the most important of its industries. Though of only eighteen years' growth, through the peculiar condition of circumstances of the country, they have attained a degree of excellence and magnitude of operations not to be equaled by those of any similar sized city in the Union. Commencing with the use of two blacksmiths' bellows and a common forge, in the autumn of 1849, when the first casting was made in the sands of Happy Valley, by Peter and James Donahue, the facilities for casting have increased so that at the present time any piece of machinery required for the business or commerce of the Pacific coast, can be done as well and cheaply as can be imported from any of the Eastern cities. To no one branch of mechanics can the unparalleled prosperity and enterprise of the Pacific coast be ascribed more than to the foundries and machine shops of this city. Through their aid the numerous improvements, required in mining, have been met as soon as experience has suggested the need, until, at the present time, California is confessedly in advance of the rest of the world in mining machinery required to economically save the precious metals. Without a single saw mill in the State at the commencement of gold digging, the foundries have supplied the requisite machinery for sawing lumber, not only to meet the demands of a wasteful population of over half a million, but to also minister to the demands of foreign countries, which required many millions of lumber annually. From there being not a single flouring mill in the State, in the last eighteen years the foundries have supplied machinery to meet not only the domestic demand, but also to export, during 1866, 250,000 barrels of extra choice flour to other countries. What has occurred with mining and milling machinery has also happened with other necessary trades, the joint product of which saves over $20,000,000 from being annually imported into the State. Up to the present time the principal foundries and machine shops located in this city have turned out machinery for the propulsion of 1,000 ton vessels, stationary engines of 300 horse power, first class locomotive engines, batteries of heavy guns, the most powerful quartz crushing machinery, saw and flour mills, and for a multiplicity of business not needed to mention. With the exception of the raw materials used for castings and machinery, the foundries of the State have rendered its people independent of other countries and given profitable employment, directly and indirectly, to several thousands of persons. At the present time there are fourteen large foundries and machine shops, some of which have no superiors anywhere in excellence of work and adaptation of materials to meet the wants of the people. During the year 1866 these foundries, with some few smaller ones, employed 1018 men, using 6921 tons pig iron, 1448 tons bar and rod iron, 1027 tons sheet and boiler iron, and 110 tons rivets. Several of these establishments have extensive boiler shops connected with them, and the boiler works of Messrs. Coffey & Risdon, Moynihan & Aitken, and the works more recently established by Messrs. Baurhyte & McAfee, manufacture a large amount of work annually.

THE UNION FOUNDRY.—These works, situated at the corner of First and Mission Streets, were established in 1849 by James and Peter Donahue, who, as before stated, made the first castings ever run on the Pacific coast.

These works comprise a three-story brick building, fronting 187½ feet on First Street, extending through to Fremont Street 275 feet, with a frontage of 130 feet on Mission Street. The area of the premises is nearly 50,000 feet. Employment is given to 290 men.

The establishment, which is complete in all respects, is provided with a steam-pump and artesian well, that, by means of hose, will convey a large stream of water instantly to any part of the establishment in case of fire.

During 1866 these works employed 235 men, used 1600 tons pig iron, 400 tons bar and rod iron, 200 tons sheet and boiler iron, and 20 tons rivets.

THE MINERS' FOUNDRY.—The premises of this foundry embrace the land and buildings extending from 235 to 259 First Street, inclusive. The frontage is 191 feet by 187 feet deep, a part running back to Fremont Street, 275 feet. When in full operation 250 men are employed, but at present, in consequence of the roads to Nevada and neighboring territories not being fully opened, the force engaged is about one-half the number mentioned. A large amount of machinery has been manufactured at the Miners' Foundry. The reputation it enjoys for superior workmanship is not second to any establishment in the city. Messrs. Howland, Angell & King stand foremost in their business, and in extent of establishment and facilities are not surpassed. Ample facilities are also afforded to inventors for perfecting and putting their machines in successful operation.

During 1866 this foundry employed 160 men, using 1800 tons pig iron and 250 tons bar and rod iron. No boiler iron was used, as the works for manufacturing boilers were not completed until early in the present year.

THE PACIFIC IRON WORKS.—These works are located on First and Fremont Streets, between Mission and Howard, and embrace foundry, machine, boiler-making, forging and smithing, pattern and wood-work departments. They were established upon their present site in the early part of 1850, and are thus one of the oldest, as well as most extensive establishments on this coast. The buildings, covering two 50-vara lots, are constructed mostly of brick, and are spacious and substantial in character. In tools and general arrangement these works are not excelled in equipment for heavy work by any foundry in the country.

Among the specialties of these works has been the manufacture of sugar-making machinery, quite a number of mills for the Sandwich Islands having been supplied with the most approved machinery, including vacuum pans of large size. During 1866 these works employed 175 men, used 1200 tons pig iron and 300 tons bar iron, 160 tons boiler iron, and 25 tons rivets. The proprietors of the Pacific Iron Works are Messrs. Ira P. Rankin, Albert P. Brayton, and A. C. Austin, conducting the business still under the old firm name of Goddard & Company.

THE VULCAN IRON WORKS.—These works were originally established by Messrs. George Gordon & Steen, but in 1855 were changed into a joint stock company, and as such have continued to the present day. One of the oldest foundries and machine shops in the State, the works have kept pace with the growth of the city until they have become equal in capacity for manufacturing with any other establishment on the coast. The great specialty of the Vulcan Iron Works has been its boiler making and mining engines and machinery. The latter have been among the finest specimens of machinery and engines, they being better finished, of a larger size, and higher cost than any yet made in this city. A large quantity of machinery has also been made for use in Mexico, while, at the present time, the works are making the immense pumps, engines and other machinery required for the new dry dock, now being built at the Potrero. During 1866 the Vulcan Iron Works employed 90 men, used 662 tons pig iron, 200 tons bar and rod iron, 100 tons boiler iron, and 10 tons rivets.

GOLDEN STATE FOUNDRY.—This establishment is located on First Street near Market, and is owned by Messrs. Palmer, Knox & Co. A very large business is done in making amalgamating pans and mining machinery, the former being the specialty of the works. During 1866 this foundry employed 75 men, using 750 tons pig iron and 100 tons bar iron, no boilers being made by the concern.

THE ETNA FOUNDRY.—Is situated in the rear of the Gas Company's Works on Fremont, near Howard Streets. These works turn out a large quantity of mining machinery, force and lifting pumps, and turbine wheels, both of which latter they have made specialties in their business. Hanscom & Co., proprs.

THE FULTON FOUNDRY.—Was removed during the past year from its old location on First near Mission Street, to Fremont, near Minna Street. This foundry does a very large business in castings for building purposes, and steamboat and saw mill machinery. In castings for buildings, they have done more than any other foundry in the State, they having furnished the entire castings for the new Merchants' Exchange, and other large buildings in the vicinity. The foundry has had large additions of tools, etc., lately made to their working machinery, and now are ready to undertake any manufacturing that can be done at any foundry in the State. During 1866, the foundry employed fifty-five workmen, using two hundred and fifteen tons pig iron, and sixty tons bar and rod iron. Messrs. Hinckley & Co., proprietors.

EMPIRE FOUNDRY.—This foundry, recently established by Messrs. Flynn & France, at 221 Mission Street, manufactures every description of castings in a satisfactory manner.

COFFEY & RISON'S BOILER WORKS.—The most extensive boiler works on the Pacific coast are those of Coffey & Rison in this city. The works were founded in 1850 at its present location, corner of Bush and Market Streets. These works have a frontage on Bush Street of 114 feet, and a depth of 137 feet, and give constant employment to 125 men. There is consumed annually in the works 500 tons of boiler plates and sheet iron, 50 tons of rivets and 35,000 feet of tubing, ranging from 1½ to 5 inches.

THE PORTLAND BOILER WORKS.—These works are located on Mission Street, between Fremont and Beale. The premises are 100 feet front by 80 feet deep. Engaging in manufacture with limited capital, and depending in a great measure upon skill and perseverance, the firm has gained a point in their line which enables them to turn out boilers as large as can be produced in any establishment in the United States. The average number of men employed is about 40.

BRASS FOUNDRIES.—The brass foundries of the State are all located in this city. Commencing only seventeen years ago with the commonest style of work, the brass foundries have advanced in manufactures, until at the present time all articles in that line can be produced of as good quality and finish as can be found elsewhere. At first the business was subject to the great drawbacks of high wages, rents, and interest on money, as compared with the same trade in the Atlantic States, while importers made vigorous competition to supply the demand. By hard work and close economy our local manufacturers, however, succeeded in establishing a prosperous business, and during the last five years have been able to undersell importers of Eastern work in many articles of the trade. All varieties of work have been made, including the casting of bells of considerable size, of good volume of sound and tone. The general consumption of brass goods on the Pacific coast is estimated by competent judges at from $230,000 to $250,000, of which our local foundries supply over two-fifths. There are four principal foundries in the city. Garratt's Brass Foundry employed, during 1866, 31 workmen; Kingwell, Weed & White, 10 workmen; M. Dobrzensky, 18 workmen; and Greenberg & Moore, three workmen; making in the aggregate over $100,000 worth of brass work.

IRON DOORS, SHUTTERS, AND SAFES.—The manufacture of iron doors and shutters, to make fire-proof buildings, was early engaged in in this city. The terrible conflagrations of 1850 and 1851 devastating large portions of the business section of the city, necessarily demanded protection, which could only be had through the use of stoue and brick buildings, with iron doors and shutters. The mountain towns were also subject to large fires, and the only means of safety for property was the use of fire-proof buildings. The demand from these sources stimulated the manufacture of iron doors and shutters, for which what would now seem fabulous prices were paid. The isolation of California from the manufactories of the East also called for the manufacture of fire and thief-proof safes for the use of banking houses. At the present time there are seven establishments for making iron doors and shutters, and one bank safe manufactory. These, during 1866, employed 44 workmen, and consumed 151 tons sheet iron, and 262 tons bar and rod iron. The largest business is done by Kittredge & Leavitt, who employ 18 men, who manufactured 60 tons of sheet and 90 tons bar iron during the last year. John R. Sims, Jonathan Kittredge, and J. J. Gallagher each have extensive establishments for the manufacture of iron doors and shutters, vaults, etc., and employ in the aggregate about 20 men. Iron railings and fences are also made by one firm, William McKibbin, who has used largely both of cast and wrought iron during the year.

LEAD.—The only manufactory of lead on the Pacific coast, are the San Francisco and Pacific Lead and Shot Works in this city. These are carried on by Thomas H. Selby & Co., one of our oldest and most enterprising business firms. The works are situated on the southeast corner of Howard and First Streets, and consist of a three-story brick building, with a frame shot tower 80 by 70 feet at the base and 200 feet in height. All kinds of lead work required for the consumption of the Pacific coast, are made of a quality equal to the best imported, while shot of all sizes, including Minnie balls, is manufactured to the extent of 200 bags daily. At present the lead used is mostly imported from Spain, the total consumption of all kinds, in 1866, being 1,200 tons. The manufactures of these works have been very much liked by consumers, and at present they supply full one-half the demand for the whole coast. The domestic article is steadily curtailing importations of shot, and will ultimately exclude all other makers from this market. Although the crude lead is at present imported, it is believed that in a few years at farthest that supplies will be obtained from the numerous mines of galena that are known to exist in the State. The most accessible mines at present are to be found on the island of Santa Barbara some 300 miles south of this city. The ore of these mines is found in quite large masses, and is very pure with exception of being very rich in gold and silver, which alone would pay all expenses of mining, transportation and refining. During 1866 these works employed 47 men, and manufactured 1000 tons lead goods, and 200 tons shot. The total annual consumption of lead manufactures, including shot, is about 2,500 tons, while the works have a manufacturing capacity of 4,000 tons per annum.

WINE AND WIRE ROPE.—The manufacture of wire rope was commenced in San Francisco in the year 1857 by A. S. Hallidie & Co. From making small rope the manufacture has increased so that at present all kinds of wire rope, cordage and wire are made by this firm. Quite a number of large suspension bridges have been erected by Messrs. Hallidie & Co., in California, Idaho, Oregon and British Columbia. The largest bridge is located on Frazer River in British Columbia, while the next largest is at Folsom in this State. The lengths of span of these bridges are 400 and 330 feet. The works have manufactured wire cables $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches in circumference in single lengths 3,500 feet long, and flat ropes for hoisting works 4 inches wide by 5-8 inch thick and 1,500 feet in length. All the wire used is redrawn before being manufactured into ropes. The firm have, however, machinery for making wire direct from "blooms," but in the absence of sufficient demand and difficulty of importing the iron, have not yet engaged in wire manufacture.

Mr. A. S. Hallidie, one of the proprietors, has lately invented a new style of bridge, which, from its peculiar structure, bracing and fastening, is asserted to be as free from wave motions as most wooden bridges known. The improvement consists in using two cables on the sides, each going from the top of a tower on one side to the foot of the opposite tower, where it is securely fastened. Where the cables intersect in the center they are securely fastened so as to admit of no vibration, while the intervening sections from center to sides are diagonally braced on a new plan, and by the arrangement of planking on girders, any motion which may take place is spread over twice the usual surface. By this plan of fastening the cables, it is impossible to sway or overturn the bridge by high winds, as was the case with the Wheeling bridge on the Ohio River last year. It is claimed by the inventor that most, if not all, of the objectionable motion of ordinary suspension bridges is done away with, and that railroad trains can run with safety at a moderately high rate of speed over bridges built on the new plan. The invention has been patented in the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Austria, and negotiations are now pending for the same purpose in Russia. The works in 1866 employed three men, and turned out manufactures valued at $23,000.

WIRE WORK.—The only manufactory of wire-work goods in the State is that of H. T. Graves, 412 Clay Street. All kinds of wire cloth and wire-work are made, the larger portion of the demand of the entire coast for these goods being supplied from these works, which employ 10 men steadily.

CUTLERY.—There are four cutlery establishments in this city, only two of which, Will & Finck, and M. Price, however, manufacturing cutlery for sale. These also manufacture to order, and do repairing like the others. The quality of the goods made is very superior, and would do credit to any city of the Union. During 1866 the two establishments named employed six men in new work, of which they manufactured $4,800 worth.

BELLOWS.—There are two bellows manufactories in San Francisco, employing five men, which manufactured 650 bellows during 1866. Of these the large majority were for blacksmiths' use. The principal manufactory is that of C. W. Thomas, 22 California Street, which made 500 bellows during the last year. The domestic manufacture is fast taking the place of the imported article, the former being furnished of equal quality and at lower prices.

SALT MILLS.—There are five salt mills in this city, viz: John Barton, S. H. Tyler & Co., A. B. Winegar, Oakley & Jackson, and B. F. Barton; the most of which are located on Commercial, Sacramento and Front Streets. These mills, during 1866, employed engines of 70-horse power, 30 men, and ground 2,400 tons of domestic, and 1,800 tons foreign salt, with six run of stone. The domestic salt was made in Alameda County, while the foreign salt came from Liverpool and Carmen Islands, mostly from the latter place.

RICE MILLS.—This city contains the only two rice cleaning mills in the State, viz: the India Rice Mills on Beale near Market Street, and Flint, Peabody & Co.'s mills, on Battery near Greenwich Street. Both mills are of large capacity, and have perfect machinery for cleaning rice of various kinds; the large proportion of uncleaned rice coming from Siam and other Asiatic countries—no rice being produced in California. During 1866 the two mills ran very irregularly, employing engines of 80-horse power, 13 men, and cleaned 7,653,873 pounds. The mills were employed but a short portion of the time, they being able to clean 70,000 pounds paddy per day, or about 22,000,000 pounds per annum, if kept constantly running. The larger portion of the cleaning machinery of these mills has been invented in California, the varied character of the rice imported requiring different methods of cleaning from those practiced in the Atlantic States.

SAW MILLS.—A very large portion of the lumber used in San Francisco is received in a rough state from the mills along the Northern coast of California, Oregon, and Washington Territory. The requirements of a varied trade cause a very large amount of resawing before lumber is manufactured, and saw and planing mills of large capacity find a steady and prosperous business in this city. One feature in particular is the immense amount of box making which is required for the transportation of fruits, wines, liquors, etc., to market, as barrels and casks would otherwise have to be imported to meet the demands of these branches at a much increased cost. The manufacture of sash, blinds, and doors has also become very extensive, and promises, in time, to seriously affect the importation of those articles from the Atlantic States. A new branch of sawing has sprung up within the last two years, and promises in future to become of considerable magnitude. This is the sawing of hard or foreign woods for cigar boxes and veneers for furniture, the principal woods used being Spanish cedar for the former and California laurel and Oregon maple for furniture purposes. During 1866 there were 8 saw mills running almost constantly, the principal mills being those of Hobbs, Gilmore & Co., which were driven by a 100-horse power engine, employing 30 workmen, 10 run of saws, and sawing 4,000,000 feet during the year; and Macdonald Bros., who, with a 40-horse power engine, ran 4 saws, employed 10 men, and sawed 1,250,000 feet of lumber. These mills during 1866 were driven by 256-horse power of engines, ran 38 saws, employed 142 men, and sawed 8,950,000 feet of lumber.

FLOUR MILLS.—There are eleven extensive flouring mills located in this city. Several of these mills are of first-class capacity, while the reputation of all of them for making flour is unsurpassed. During eight months of the past year ending June 30th, 1867, these mills not only supplied the most of the local demand, but exported 136,958 barrels of flour to the Atlantic States via the Isthmus of Panama. The shipment of flour to the Eastern ports was quite a novelty in the trade, but was partly necessitated by the inability of millers there to grind California wheat, for which their milling machinery was not adapted. Several cargoes of wheat had been received in the Atlantic cities, and although the grain was conceded to be of the best quality in appearance, yet from its unusual hardness it was found almost impossible to grind it properly so as to make good flour. Flour ground in this city was then shipped by steamer to New York, which, from its superior quality, soon became a favorite with consumers there, bringing the highest price paid in the market, and establishing a favorable reputation for our wheat only second in importance to that of the precious metals of the State. California flour is now regularly quoted in New York market reports, and as regularly commands the highest price paid. The largest mills in the city are the National Mill on Market Street and the Golden Gate Mill on Pine Street. The former, during the year ending December 31, 1866, employed 20 bands, with 4 run of stone driven by a 100-horse power engine, and turning out 97,427 barrels flour, the capacity of the mill being 400 barrels daily, or 130,000 barrels per annum. The Golden Gate Mill, during the same period, employed 20 bands, with 5 run of stone driven by a 175-horse power engine, and made 80,000 barrels flour, the daily capacity of the mill being equal to 475 barrels, or about 150,000 barrels per annum. Eight of the mills, viz: National, Golden Gate, Capitol, Genessee, Pacific, Commercial, Pioneer, and Alta, which, during 1866, were run by engines of 515-horse power, employed 84 men, 20 run of stone, and turned out 247,708 barrels flour, 50 tons pearl barley, 50 tons hominy, 25 tons farina, 50 tons oatmeal, 13 tons groats, 1,000 barrels buckwheat and rye flour, and 25,000 sacks ground barley, with a daily capacity of 1,815 barrels flour, or 566,280 barrels per annum.

STEAM MARBLE WORKS.—The marble manufactures of San Francisco have, within the past year, been greatly increased by the establishment of a steam works, for the sawing and polishing of native and other marble. The large part of the marble used has hitherto been imported, mostly in slabs and polished, from Italy and the Atlantic States. The cheapness of labor in the former country, where the large part of the imported marble comes from, had an injurious effect on the manufacture in this State, and confined the business almost entirely to that portion of the work required to fit mantels and monuments for their particular uses. The market was frequently bare of slabs of a required thickness, which, like the native marble, had to be sawn by hand, at great expense, to supply the trade. The demand for marble increasing largely, incited a number of firms engaged in the business to consolidate and put up a steam works, which is located on Jackson Street, between Montgomery and Jackson Streets. This establishment is known as the "Pioneer Steam Marble Company," has a 15-horse power engine driving a gang of 20 saws, and employing 30 men. The capacity of these works is at present equal to the supply of native and foreign block marble in market, but as the proprietors intend quarrying largely in the interior of the State, and importing marble blocks direct from Italy and the Atlantic coast, they expect to increase the working machinery to suit the full requirements of trade. The supplies of native marble are at present derived from quarries located at Indian Diggings, El Dorado County; Drytown, Amador County; Columbia, Tuolumne County; and in Placer County near the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, near Colfax. The marble from Indian Diggings is clouded white and gray; from Drytown and Columbia, is nearly pure white; and from Placer County, is a fine mottled or variegated black, capable of receiving a high degree of polish, and well suited for mantels, table-tops, Mosaic work, tiles, and other purposes. One great advantage claimed for the new steam works is, that slabs freshly cut have a clearer and cleaner appearance than is the case with slabs imported, which have been long exposed to a salt atmosphere in transportation. The quarries at Indian Diggings were the first worked in the State in 1857, by Aitken & Co., Sacramento. D. P. Myers owns quarries at Drytown, John Grant the quarries at Columbia, and James A. Pritchard the quarries at Colfax.

POTTERIES.—There are several potteries in San Francisco, manufacturing a great variety of ware of good quality. At the Mission, J. W. Orr manufactures stone ware from clay of superior quality found in the southeastern portion of Sacramento County. He also manufactures vessels for chemical works; among others, having manufactured a number of sixty-gallon condensers to be used by the San Francisco Acid Works. R. Chabot has his establishment at North Beach, where he manufactures sewer pipes to a very large extent. This latter pipe is made from a composition of cement, gravel, and clay, combined with iron bands. During the past year, large deposits of kaolin or porcelain clay have been discovered in Mendocino County, and a considerable quantity of the clay brought to this city. Efforts have been made to establish a porcelain pottery, but so far no definite action has been taken, although the project is still under consideration. The clay has been made into fire bricks, which on severe trials have proved to be equal to the best imported. A variety of superior pottery ware is now being manufactured by Isaac Lobree & Co., at Antioch, Contra Costa County, an agency for the sale of which has been established at 516 Commercial Street.

SUGAR REFINERIES.—The only sugar refineries on the Pacific coast are those located in this city. These are three in number, and conjointly have a refining capacity nearly double the consumption of refined sugar in this market. The business is, however, at times subject to vigorous competition from importations from the Atlantic States, and in the lower grades of refined sugars from imports of raw sugars from the Hawaiian Islands. The latter opposition is, however, about being removed, as arrangements have been made by the principal refineries to get their entire stock of raw sugars from the Islands in future, so that the sugar growers' interests there and the refineries in this city will be in unison hereafter.

The first and longest established refinery was the San Francisco, which several years later was incorporated with the Pacific Refinery, and now are known conjointly as the San Francisco and Pacific Sugar Refineries, the works of both adjoining each other on Harrison and Eighth Streets. The quality of the refined sugar made by these works (as well as the other refineries) is unexceptionable, and their success was the inducement for the other refineries being erected to supply a profitable demand. The works have a capacity to refine 120,000 pounds of raw sugar daily, the power of engines is 100-horse power, while during 1866 there were 179 men employed, refining 14,902,360 pounds raw sugars, which netted 11,927,500 pounds refined sugar and 325,012 gallons syrup. The works were in operation night and day for the entire year, with the exception of some six weeks while repairs were being made. Besides supplying the domestic demand, which includes the people of the States of Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and part of Montana Territories, the refineries of this city have, during the past year, exported considerable quantities of refined sugars to Mexico, British Columbia, the Hawaiian and Society Islands, and Japan. The prospects are favorable for an increase of the exportations to all the countries named, the sugars from this port comparing favorably, both in price and quality, with sugar from Germany, Great Britain, and the Atlantic States, from which supplies had formerly been received.

BAY SUGAR REFINERY.—This refinery is situated immediately on the Bay, at the corner of Union and Battery Streets. The capacity of the works is equal to the refining of 28,000 pounds raw sugar daily. The engine used is 100-horse power, and during 1866 there were employed sixty workmen, using 6,620,952 pounds raw sugar and turning out 5,250,000 pounds refined sugar and 120,019 gallons syrup. During 1866 this refinery was run night and day with the exception of about two months and a half, during which repairs were being made. Within the past year Claus Spreckles, one of the proprietors of this refinery, visited Germany and France with the view of informing himself of the process to make beet sugar and the best variety of that vegetable for the purpose. Mr. Spreckles was successful in his endeavors, and since his return has distributed large quantities of beet seed to farmers located in different portions of the State, with the view of ascertaining the most favorable section for sugar growing. From specimens forwarded him this season he has found that the beets grown in California possess a much larger per centage of sugar than the same varieties grown in Germany and France, while the yield of roots per acre is also equally great in favored locations. Experiments with beets, on a small scale, have been made, which have resulted in the production of a first class quality of refined sugar, fully equal to the best made. Should the results of next year warrant it, the machinery of this refinery will, in all probability, be either removed to a locality of beet growing and fitted for the making of sugar direct from the vegetable, or be changed for use for the same purpose in this city.

CALIFORNIA SUGAR REFINERY.—This refinery is located on the corner of Brannan and Eighth Streets. The works have a capacity for refining 15,000 pounds raw sugar daily, using a 25-horse power engine. During the last year these works employed 25 hands, using 1,220,000 pounds raw sugar, which netted 1,025,600 pounds refined sugar and 125,000 gallons syrup, a portion of the raw sugar being made into low grades refined sugar and syrup direct.

SHOW CASES.—There are quite a number of manufactories of show cases of the various sizes and kinds needed for the trade of San Francisco. For workmanship and materials used, this branch of manufactures has no superior in the Atlantic States.

BRUSHES.—The manufacture of brushes in this city has been engaged in with varying results for several years. Until within the last eighteen months the entire supply of bristles had to be imported, while the wages of operatives were so high as to prevent favorable competition with the imported article. Within the above named time, however, considerable quantities of bristles of fair quality have been obtained from the slaughtering establishments around the city, and a new article from the plant commonly known as the soap-root, which is found growing in great profusion in the interior of the State. The bristles have to be cleaned and sorted by brushmakers before using, while the fibres of the soap-root are torn apart and cleaned from husk by machinery adapted to the purpose. Both of the articles are well suited for making all the varieties of common brushes used, the soap-root fibres being found excellently adapted for scrubbing and other wet uses, it retaining its wire-like firmness after long soaking and service.

MACARONI AND PASTE.—The manufacture of these articles of food was first commenced in San Francisco in the year 1836, by Messrs. Brignardello, Macchiavello & Co., who have continued in the business. The superiority of the domestic made articles over the imported, which latter are more or less injuriously affected by the long voyage, was soon appreciated by consumers, so that the manufacture was increased until it monopolized the market. At first the macaroni wheat was imported from Chile, but within the last two years a full supply has been grown at various places around the Bay. During the year 1866, the above named firm manufactured about 20,000 boxes of macaroni and paste, using 10,000 sacks wheat, and 600 barrels of flour for the purpose. Besides supplying the domestic trade, considerable quantities of macaroni and paste have been exported during the past year. Messrs. Tenthorey, Mermoud & Co. are also extensively engaged in their manufacture.

YEAST POWDERS.—The consumption of this article by miners and other persons in the interior and at a distance from large towns has always been very large. In the early days of gold digging yeast powder was in almost universal use, and immense quantities were imported from the Atlantic States to supply the demand. Efforts were made, for a long time, to produce a domestic article to meet the requirements of trade, Donnelly & Co. of this city being the successful parties; their manufacture now brings higher prices than the best brands imported. This firm during the last year manufactured 3,000 gross of yeast powders, and packed 50,000 pounds of saleratus and the same quantity of bicarbonate of soda with 400 cases cream tartar, containing about three hundred pounds to the case, the latter being imported in crystals.

MUSTARD.—The manufacture of ground mustard has been carried on to a considerable extent in San Francisco since 1852. At first the seed was imported, but in a very few years, the supply of golden mustard for domestic consumption was grown in the State and proved to be of superior quality. Later it was discovered that the native black or California mustard, which was indigenous in various portions of the State, possessed extraordinary strength and pungency, making an article, when ground, that was considered by physicians unequaled for medicinal uses and preferable to the yellow or golden variety. A demand was thus created which made it profitable for farmers whose grain lands were overrun with mustard to collect the seed for sale, it bringing from two to four cents per pound, for exportation. The native mustard also grew into favor for table use, and its manufacture for that purpose is now of an extensive nature. California mustard is now known favorably in most of the prominent markets of the Eastern States, many thousands of sacks being shipped to New York annually.

GOLD AND SILVER WARE AND JEWELRY.—The manufacture of the precious metals into ornaments and articles for family use commenced early in this city. At first the demand was mainly confined to the making of ornaments of the various gold specimens found of peculiar shapes, and heavy rings, and cane heads. With the increase of families, new branches of manufactures were required, until at the present time every article desired in the line of gold and silver ware and jewelry can be made in this city, in elegance of style and workmanship equal to any other city of the same population. The cosmopolitan character of our people has caused large quantities of California made jewelry and gold and silver ware to be sent as presents abroad, so that the invention and skill of our artisans have been largely drawn on to meet the requirements of the demand. From this cause our manufactures are known in almost all the cities of the civilized world, and enjoy a deservedly high reputation. Among other articles manufactured was a gold service made by J. W. Tucker in 1854, which was presented to Cornelius K. Garrison on the occasion of his retirement from the mayoralty of this city. The set consisted of fifty pieces in all, and cost over $50,000 to manufacture, it being the most beautiful and costly set of plate ever manufactured in the United States. A great variety of sets silver ware have been manufactured at various times by Messrs. J. W. Tucker & Co., Shreve & Co., Braverman & Levy, and Barrett & Sherwood, of this city, which for intrinsic value of material, beauty of design and workmanship have no superiors elsewhere. The extensive manufacturing of R. B. Gray & Co., Vanderslice & Co., and F. R. Reichel produce a large amount of silver ware annually and afford employment in the aggregate to about 75 men. A considerable amount of diamond setting is also done by the San Francisco jewelers and lapidaries, the latter having also made California famous by their manufacture of gold and silver quartz jewelry, which is original, and a specialty of this State.

STOVES, JAPANNED AND TINWARE.—The manufacture of stoves in this State is confined to the firms of Messrs. Tay, Brooks & Backus, and J. G. Iis, both of this city. The first named make the Monitor Cooking Stove, which is in considerable use and favorably regarded. They are also the only manufacturers of copper circulating boilers, in which they have been so successful as to seriously affect importations. They are also the sole manufacturers of crystalized and japanned ware on the Pacific coast, their establishment being reported as the third in extent in the United States. Other branches of metal manufactures are also conducted by them, such as stamping of pans, kettle ears, machinists' washers, etc., some of which they tin for use. A new branch of business lately undertaken by them is the manufacture of all kinds of plumbers' brass work, and when the manufacture of copper is successfully undertaken, the firm contemplate the manufacture of copper kettle bottoms, and rivets, and washers. In the manufacture of tin ware, the numerous tinsmiths in the city supply not only the entire trade of the city, but a large portion of the demand from the interior. During the last ten years the local tinsmiths have completely driven all importations of manufactured goods from this market, all furniture sold with Eastern stoves being made by workmen in the State.

BROOMS AND WOODEN WARE.—There are ten broom manufactories in San Francisco, the sales of the most of the number being made through two business houses, who are also largely engaged in the manufacture of wooden ware. The material used in broom making, with the exception of twine and wire, are produced in the State. In the article of broom corn the domestic production is said to be unsurpassed in any portion of the Union, considerable quantities on different occasions having been shipped to New York, where it was highly spoken of, and brought a profitable return to the shipper. During the year 1866 two firms in this city, who sold the great majority of the brooms made, report sales of 10,080 dozen and 7,500 dozen brooms, or 17,580 dozen in all, which was probably fully three-fourths of the local manufacture. The manufacture of wooden ware is confined to the two firms of Elam & Howes and Armes & Dallam, of this city, who make almost every variety of article in the line used. The domestic made articles are of excellent quality, and at the present time, from their competition in price, have entirely monopolized the market to the exclusion of Eastern shippers. The aggregate manufactures of the firms above mentioned during the year 1866 were 6,057 doz. pails, 7,634 nests (four each) tubs, 3,582 dozen zinc washboards, 459 dozen barrel covers, 412 dozen peach baskets, 161 dozen sieves, and 60,000 powder kegs, besides a great variety of other articles, too numerous to mention, the whole giving steady employment to 86 men.

BOX MANUFACTORIES.—The manufacture of boxes for various purposes, owing to the scarcity of suitable woods for making barrels, kegs, etc., has attained to a very great extent. The comparatively small use of baskets to contain fruit and vegetables, etc., as compared with other cities, and the great amount of wine, etc., cased, give a demand for boxes not equaled in any other city in the Union of the same population. The larger portion of the lumber used in ordinary boxes comes from Humboldt Bay, although red wood and Puget Sound lumber is used to a considerable extent. The great increase in the manufacture of cigars in this city has also stimulated the making of boxes to contain them, the wood used (Spanish cedar) being imported from Mexico and Central America. The three principal box manufacturers of common woods are Hobbs, Gilmore & Co., L. Raconillat, and John S. Gibbs, who, during the year 1866, used 4,000,000 feet pine and spruce lumber, and employed 68 men—the first-named firm manufacturing 3,000,000 feet during that period. There are only two manufacturers of cigar boxes, viz.: F. Korbel, and A. & C. Waldstein, who, in 1866, employed 23 men, and used 110,000 feet Spanish cedar wood (board measure).

PETROLEUM REFINERIES.—There are two refineries of petroleum in San Francisco, owned respectively by Hayward & Coleman, and Stanford Bros., their works being located at Steamboat Point and North Beach. The larger portion of the crude petroleum used is brought from Santa Barbara County, a few miles back from the roadstead of San Buenaventura. The oil is obtained by tunneling into hills of shale or oil-bearing rock, the crude petroleum being collected in drains, into which it seeps from the various drifts. A very small portion of the oil is received from Del Norte County, where it is pumped from shafts, the oil being of much less density and of better illuminating power than that found in Santa Barbara County. The total amount of refined burning oil made by both distilleries or refineries, during 1866, is reported to have been only 57,429 gallons, the business employing 12 men, with six stills, the latter having a distilling capacity of 600 gallons crude oil per day. The low price of refined petroleum in the Atlantic States has had a depressing effect on the refining business in this city, the California crude oils being of much greater density than those of the Atlantic States, and yielding a less return of illuminating oil from amount distilled.

LINSEED AND CASTOR OILS AND PAINTS.—During the year 1866, the first establishment for the manufacture of linseed and castor oil and paints was erected in this city by the Pacific Linseed Oil and Lead Co. The works are located on King Street, between Second and Third Streets, and are among the most complete of their kind in the United States. The building is of brick, 43 feet front by 96 feet deep, with four stories and a basement, in which the engine of 50-horse power and the larger portion of the heavy machinery is placed. The tempering stones, located on the second floor, are solid blocks of Angel Island stone, 7 feet in diameter and 18 inches thick, weighing nearly 5 tons each. The iron bed-plate traversed by them weighs nearly 3,000 pounds; and 4 rollers for crushing, and 3 hydraulic presses, are located on the same floor. The third story is occupied by the machinery for crushing oil cake for feed and other purposes. The machinery has a capacity for crushing 4,000 bushels of flax seed per week, and is also adapted for crushing castor beans, mustard, rape, and other seeds.

There is also a mill for the grinding in oil of white-lead and zinc paints. At present the supply of linseed has to be imported, very little being grown in the State. The culture of flax as well as castor beans is, however, being extensively engaged in in various portions of the State, and it is expected that the supply of both articles will, in a few years, be produced from our own soil. The presses used in the works are patented by the inventor, B. P. Brunner, who has superintended the erection of the building and machinery, which latter is in successful operation.

BILLIARD TABLES.—There are only two billiard table manufacturers in San Francisco at the present time, although there are several establishments where repairs and portions of tables are made. The principal manufacturers are Strahle & Hughes, who, prior to 1867, kept distinct establishments, but have since gone into partnership in the business. Every portion of the tables, with exception of the cushions, is made in this city. The cushions used are Phelan's patent, and are imported from New York. The pioneer in the business was Mr. Strahle, who commenced in 1851. The other manufactory is that of P. Liesenfeld, who has been making tables for the last eleven years. California rosewood, lanrel, Oregon maple, and other varieties of native woods are used in the tables, many of which, for beauty as well as excellence of workmanship, cannot be excelled elsewhere. During the sixteen years billiard tables have been manufactured in this city, the members of the above-named firms have made nearly 5,000 tables, which have found a ready sale. During 1866, they employed 12 men, who made 70 tables of an average value of $480 each.

SOAP.—During 1866, there were ten soap manufactories in operation in this city, which employed thirty-three men, and manufactured 2,831,419 pounds soap; all varieties of common soap were made, as also washing powders, a preparation used largely by families for domestic purposes. The materials used were mostly home productions, although considerable quantities of polar oil and whale oil soap were employed in some varieties made. The domestic manufacture of this article has now almost entirely monopolized the market to the exclusion of importations from the Eastern States, the home made soap being generally of better quality and furnished at lower prices. The principal works in the city are those of J. H. C. Portmann, Lucy & Hymes, Cogswell & Crane, H. Hellman, J. J. Bergin, F. Leiphart, Brown & Cook, J. P. Dyer, John Fay, C. Peterson & C. Rohrle, and Smith & Irving, whose establishments have an aggregate manufacturing capacity of 710,000 pounds per month.

MATCHES.—The manufacturing of common matches in this city has increased to such an extent, as to entirely prevent their importation from the Atlantic States. With the exception of saloon and other fancy matches imported from Germany, our domestic manufacturers have no rivals on the Pacific coast. During 1866, there were three manufactories, which employed fourteen men and turned out 25,000 gross of matches. The largest manufactory of matches is that of the Eureka Company, Wm. H. Jessup & Co., on Twelfth Street, near Folsom, which turned out 15,000 gross during the past year. Newbauer & Co. are also extensive manufacturers of these articles.

TANNERIES.—Owing to a variety of favorable causes, a large number of tanneries are located in this city, mostly in the vicinity of Mission Creek, near Brannan Street. The excellence of the native tree bark and regularity of climate, have enabled our tanners to make leather that is not surpassed by any other portion of the Union. In the manufacture of sole, hose, and harness leather, California stands confessedly without a superior, these articles being in demand even in the Atlantic States, where a considerable amount of the two first varieties have been exported. For hose and belting purposes, our home tanned leather has peculiar merits, and it is claimed will stand a higher average strain, or pressure, than that made in the Eastern cities. During 1866, five tanneries in this city employed twenty-six men, using 375 cords bark, and tanning 2,400 hides, 615 dozen calf, and 515 dozen kip skins. The curriers during the same period dressed 1,200 dozen calfskins for local consumption. The total capacity of these works is equal to tanning 650 hides, and 600 dozen calf and kip skins monthly.

SADDLERY AND HARNESS.—The manufacture of saddlery and harness is steadily increasing, so that a very large proportion of the heavier class of these articles used, is now made in this city. During the past six months, the business has been considerably increased by a demand from Japan, where California saddlery seems to be held in much favor. The exports in this direction promise to become very large, as the Japanese Government are introducing cavalry service as an important branch of their army. With the China line of steamers running from this city to their ports, the current of trade with that nation will largely favor us to the relative exclusion of Eastern manufacturers. The heaviest manufacturers of saddlery and harness, are Messrs. Main & Winchester, who are located on Battery Street. The other principal firms are C. H. Mead and J. C. Johnson & Co., who do a large business.

HOSE AND BELTING.—The manufacture of leather hose and belting is quite extensively engaged in in this city, the articles manufactured having a better reputation for service than most of the imported goods. The manufacturers of these articles are Messrs. M. M. Cook & Son and John J. Fulton. The former firm, during 1866, employed ten workmen throughout the entire year, who manufactured 6,000 feet hose, $7,000 worth of belting, and 400 dozen horse collars, using for the purpose 2,000 sides hose and belting leather, and 3,000 sides collar leather. The latter firm employed two workmen, who used 750 sides hose leather and made 6,000 feet of hose. At the present time our domestic made hose enjoys a monopoly with consumers in the interior cities and mines, while the belting made receives the preference over Eastern made, wherever used. An additional benefit these manufactures create is the assistance given to the manufacture of boots and shoes, a very large amount of piece leather being furnished, of excellent quality and at a very low price.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—This branch of industry has largely increased during the past year, so that in some grades of goods the home made has driven the imported article out of market. It is also claimed that the former is of a better quality than the same kind of goods made in the Eastern States, buyers paying from ten to twenty per cent. increased price in preference. There are several very large establishments in this city, the most noted of which are the Pacific Tannery and Boot and Shoe Company with $100,000 capital, on Folsom Street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth Streets, run by steam power, and employing 125 hands, using California stock throughout. Messrs. Wentworth, Hobart & Co., manufactory 210 Pine Street, who employ about 100 hands, who by the use of machinery turn out about 1,000 pairs boots and shoes weekly, using about 5,000 sides of sole and skins of upper leather each month. Messrs. Hein & Bray, on Battery Street, employing 75 hands, turning out about 80 pairs men's and boys' boots daily, besides considerable quantities of pegged shoes; and Buckingham & Hecht, on the same street, who employ from 45 to 65 hands, who made 18,000 pairs men's and boys' boots, and 2,500 pairs brogans during the past year, consuming 4,500 kipskins, 2,500 calfskins, and 40,000 pounds sole-leather. Besides the above, George K. Porter, the pioneer in the trade, employs considerable outside labor, and has a contract with the State for the services of thirty or forty convicts in the State Prison, who are engaged in the manufacture of the coarser qualities of boots and shoes. The total manufactures of boots and shoes in this city for the year past was about $750,000, employing in all about 500 men.

TYPE.—The only type manufactory on the Pacific coast was put in operation by Wm. Faulkner & Son, at 411 Clay Street, in this city, on the 1st January, 1867, using three machines. The works have not yet manufactured to their full capacity, but the type was produced at the rate of $20,000 per annum during the first six months of the year. It is the intention of the proprietors to run three additional machines soon, the business of which is already ordered. The work has so far been confined to making body type, but several other varieties are expected to be produced before the year is over. The works at present employ seven men and thirty girls and boys.

MALT.—The manufacture of malt has been increased largely during the past year to keep pace with the demand of brewers. During 1866, the three principal maltsters used 2,902,354 pounds barley, employing steam power and 8 men. The largest establishment was that of H. Sweig, who malted 1,282,354 pounds barley.

BREWERIES.—There are 24 establishments in San Francisco where fermented liquors were made during the past year. The barley used for the malt is grown in California, as also the larger portion of the hops used, the latter being considered better than Eastern grown, on account of their greater strength and aroma. The breweries find a local market for their product only, a comparatively small quantity being shipped to the interior or exported to other ports. During the year 1866, seventeen breweries in this city employed 138 men and made 76,602 barrels beer, an increase of nearly 25 per cent. over the amount manufactured the previous year. The largest breweries were those of Lyon & Co. who made 16,520 barrels, Hoelscher & Wieland who made 17,200 barrels, and Spreckles Bros. who made 8,915 barrels beer.

SPARKLING WINES.—The manufacture of Champagne or sparkling wine has for several years been attempted by various parties in this city, the process consisting mainly in forcing carbonic acid gas into wine in bottles through the use of a charged soda fountain. During the present year, however, a new enterprise has been inaugurated by I. Landsberger, who has succeeded in making an excellent quality of Champagne by natural fermentation, as is the case with the best wines of France. So far as known this wine making is the second successful undertaking in this State, the other being the Sonoma Vinicultural Society in Sonoma County. The process used in this city has, however, a novelty introduced through the use of artificial heat, which stimulates fermentation to a great degree. By placing the bottled wine in its first stage in a room heated to a certain temperature the fermentation goes on with steadiness and rapidity, it only taking four months to perfect the wine, while in the cellars at Sonoma the same effect is produced in from twelve to fifteen months. The capacity of the establishment of Mr. Landsberger is comparatively limited, he making about 250 dozen bottles per month, for which there is already an active demand. Should the new process prove a success with the public, there is no doubt that the business of Champagne making will receive a strong impetus, and interfere seriously with the importation of some grades of foreign made Champagne.

FURNITURE.—The manufacture of furniture in this city is fast assuming a rank among the first industries of the State. Commencing less than twelve years since with the labor of three or four men, the business has grown so that at present over three hundred men are employed strictly on new work, of which they turned out about $800,000 value in 1866, while a considerable amount was paid for the remanufacturing of furniture imported from the Atlantic States in a "knock down" state. The total aggregate paid for materials and labor in the entire furniture trade is estimated to aggregate about $1,500,000 in value during 1866. The amount of new manufactures in the absence of any large supplies of native woods suited for the making of furniture, and the average high wages paid for labor, make the healthy progress of this branch of industry one of the most remarkable in the State. During the past year considerable quantities of the native or California laurel have been used with comparative success, but the variety of wood suited for the purpose is quite limited. Should the newly acquired territory of Alaska, however, be found to contain good cabinet woods in large supply, the domestic manufacture of furniture will be greatly stimulated, much to the benefit of this city, where the greater portion of the work is done. The immense importations which are annually made to meet the demand, shows plainly that a large field for profitable labor is still unoccupied in our midst, and only waiting a favorable combination of circumstances to give it birth. Some of our local manufacturers have already acquired extent sufficient for them to compare favorably with other establishments East. The most prominent manufacturers are N. P. Cole & Co., Goodwin & Co., W. G. Weir and Field & Co., while Jacob Schreiber and J. F. and H. H. Schafer do a very large manufacturing business in beds and bedding. The establishment of N. P. Cole & Co., on Pine Street, employs forty men, who are mostly engaged on new work, the shop and warehouses being on the first, 108 feet front by 137½ feet deep, using four stories and a basement. During the last few months, the large establishment of J. Peirce, on California Street, was destroyed by fire and the firm has since retired from the business. One of the features of furniture making in this city has been inaugurated by John D. Boyd, on Pine Street, who, by his untiring efforts, has established the reputation of California laurel as one of the best cabinet woods. Among other means of advertising, Mr. Boyd sent a fine assortment of samples of the rough and manufactured wood to the World's Fair, at Paris, where it attracted considerable attention, although badly situated for being seen by visitors. We are informed that the intrinsic merits of the wood have at last induced Eastern manufacturers to examine into its value, and that several large orders for laurel have been filled by shipments to New York.

CIGARS.—The average manufacture of cigars in this city for the year ending June 30th, 1867, has been nearly 3,000,000 per month. Over one hundred firms are engaged in the trade, of which nearly one-half are Chinese, who manufacture about 1,600,000 per month. The number of persons employed is about eight hundred, a large majority of whom are Chinese. The firms of Weil & Co., Mayrisch & Co., and Kullman & Armer produce an excellent article, which commands a ready sale for home consumption.

CLOTHING.—The amount of clothing manufactured for the year ending June 30th, 1867, is nearly $1,500,000. About seven hundred persons are employed by the several firms engaged in the trade. The firms of Weidenrich & Lehman, S. Reinstein & Barnett, Berliner & Co., are the most extensive.

SHIRTS.—During the past year the manufacture of shirts on an extensive scale was commenced by G. F. Falkenstein & Brandt; and the enterprise has succeeded so well, there being such a steady demand for the domestic manufacture, that others have followed. Most of the large clothing manufacturers include this in their business. The concern named keeps 75 to 100 persons constantly engaged, a room 35 by 80 feet being devoted to the business. They turn out from 40 to 50 dozen of hickory, and from 20 to 30 dozen of linen and cotton shirts each day. M. L. Haas and Esberg & Co. are also engaged in this manufacture.

CARRIAGES AND WAGONS.—The manufacture of carriages and wagons in this city is increasing yearly. Over twenty firms are engaged at the present time in the business, who furnish employment to about three hundred persons. Messrs. Black & Miller and Saul & McCarron produce a superior vehicle, which is in many respects preferred to that imported from the East.

RUBBER PAINT AND ROOFING.

Messrs. Epes & E. H. R. Ellery, corner Battery and Jackson Streets, have introduced a new and durable paint, containing gutta percha in solution, which they apply to buildings, fronts, and roofs, in all colors.

CARPET BEATING.

J. Spaulding & Co. have erected a three-story building on Tehama Street near Fifth, and supplied it with the necessary machinery for cleaning carpets, at an expense of $11,000. The machinery is run by steam power, and has a capacity for beating 2,500 yards daily. This is the first machine of the kind established on this coast.

AXLE GREASE.

Messrs. Hucks & Lambert are deserving of special notice for the introduction and manufacture of an axle grease, of which a description will be found in the advertising department. They have secured a patent for its exclusive manufacture. Its main constituent is resin, chemically combined with other ingredients, forming a peculiar, tenacious, lubricating material. The increasing demand for this article has caused a corresponding increase in the facilities for its manufacture during the past year.

The Fluctuations of Trade.

The following table has been prepared for the purpose of showing the changeable character of our business community. Only the leading branches of trade have been included, but these may be regarded as a fair indication of the whole. The yearly changes among the small dealers will not fall short of forty per cent. per annum.
